THE GRANGER'S PICNIC.

In Progress at Grange Park, Centre Hall

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

The Exhibits are the Finest in Years—Edwin S. Stuart Republican Candidate for Governor Will be there Today.

A LIST OF THE TENT HOLDERS

With the "Old Stars and Stripes" waving high in the air, the bands playing, the merry-go-round in full sway and the lemonade and spinning wheel men hustling to get in line on the "Midway" all went to help open the Granger's Picnic at Centre Hall on Saturday. This years picnic promises to be the greatest and grandest ever held, as the committee in charge have worked earnestly to make this occasion a success. They have secured for the entire week one of the best repetoire theatrical companies from New York, and every evening they will give an entertainment equal to any given in large cities, this company is under the management of Mr. John Brocious of Williamsport.

SUNDAY IN CAMP.

The Sabbath day dawned clear and beautiful and shortly after sunrise conveyances of all descriptions began wending their way to the camp meeting until nearly 5,000 people had assembled. The day was an ideal one and farmers and their friends from far and near took advantage of the grand weather and enjoyed themselves meeting their good old acquaintances. In the afternoon the large auditorium was crowded with these good people to attend divine services. The sermon which was practical and filled with interesting and beneficial thoughts, was ably delivered by Rev. George W. McIlnay of the Methodist Episcopa church of Centre Hall. He used for his text—Psalm 16 chapter and 6th verse—"The Gold Psalm." Some of the subjects he touched were as follows.

Heritage was defined as an estate, a portion, a possession. Goodly—beautiful, desirabie or happy.

Our heritage good. 1st. Because it is a divine gift. God gives to man only that which is good. The evil that comes to us is the result of our disobedience and sin. 2nd. Because it is divinely preserved. 3rd. Because divinely prepetuated.

Our heritage good in what?

1st. Extent of domain. 2nd. Position of honor. 3rd. Opportunity for doing good.

What is our estate or our portion?

1st. Best nation under shining of the sun. 2nd. Largest in religious liberty. 3rd. Largest in secular liberty. 4th. Greatest in free institutions. 5th. Rich acherage. 6th. Abundant fruitage.

How much do we realize ourselves undebted to God for our heritage? What is the degree our appreciation for your God-given heritage? Are you giving to God your best? He has not with-held His best from you.

During the services the large choir rendered some very excellent music.

ENCAMPMENT NOTES.

Miss Edna Kamp and Miss May Morris of Lock Haven are the guests of the Encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Taylor attended the picnic on Sunday.

Mr. LeRoy McKee and Mr. Rodger T. Bayard of Altoona are guests during the week at the Grange Eecampment of Hon. Leonard Rhone and his daughters.

Among the many amusements on the grounds are a large Ferris Wheel which will add greatly to the pleasure of the many people who will attend the Grangers,

MONDAY.

Bright and early Monday morning the tented city was awake and every one was astir. The campers busy getting their little improvised homes in order so as to make things look cheerful and homelike. The exhibitors busy arranging their exhibitions' the grafters and lemonade men staking their tents and making their stands, getting ready to hustle for the almighty dollar but all these go to make up an up to date "County Fair."

One of the prettiest exhibitions on the Fair Grounds is a column 30 feet high made of grain, vegetables and fruit. This artistic piece of work was done by Mr. Gotlieb Strowmeyer assisted by William Shoop who certaily deserves the highest credit and praise.

The Slaters' Comedians booked to entertain the farmers and their friends for the entire week gave their first performance in the auditorium on Monday evening. On account of the troop coming from quite a distance and all pretty well worn out, they gave fair show.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

Fire Marshall Appointment of Fire Police Confirmed by Council.

The regular semi-monthly session of the boro council was held on Monday evening at 7:3 o'clock with the following members present; Kirk, Shuey, Wagner, Seibret, Keichline, Derstine, Hamilton. In the absence of President Keller the chair was filled by Mr. Shuey.

The minutes of the previous meeting having been read and approved the council proceeded to discuss business.

At this juncture President Keller entered and assumed the chair.

S. Kline Woodring Esq., appeared for Mrs. Josephine Cruse and asked for a reduction in the taxes assessed on her property on East Linn street. Since the tax was assessed the house was destroyed by fire.

Council has received an invitation to attend the Capitol dedication at Harrisburg on October 4th.

The street committee recommended the repairing of the old Lewistown to the boro line east, East Bishop street and Quaker Hill. The repairs are very much needed and would cost about $150.00. The Street committee was ordered to make these repairs.

A cesspool on the Butler property on East High street was complained off. There is a stench from it and it is a menace to health. The owners of the property is to be notified to remedy this evil at once or proceedings will be instituted.

The borough council decided to make the exoneration on the Cruse property as requested.

A new roof was ordered to be placed on the coal shed at the Water Works, it being in a bad condition.

John J. Bower, Fire Marshall recommended the appointment of ten fire police for the ensuing year. His appointments were approved by council. Mr. Bower's communication and its approval by council reads as follows:

BELLEFONTE, PA., Sept. 17th, 1906

To the President and Members of the Council of the Borough of Bellefonte.

Sirs:—In pursuance of the ordinance governing the Fire Department of the Borough, I hereby appoint following named persons as Fire Police and ask that the said appointment be approved by your honorable body.

C. B. Garman, Thomas Howley, H. F. Gerberich, Alexander Morrison, John Anderson, Geo. H. Knisely, Joseph H. Grose, Hard P. Harris, D. P. Fortney, H. B. Kern.

Respectufully submmitted,

JOHN J. BOWER.
Fire Marshall.

And now September 17th, 1906 the above appointment of Fire Police is hereby approved.

THE KNIGHTS OF MACCABEES

A Tent of this Order Instituted in Bellefonte.

OVER 100 MEMBERS

It Will be One of the Strongest Orders in Bellefonte—A List of the Officers Elected.

THE STORY OF THE MACCABEES

A very successful organization of a Tent of the Knights of the Maccabees was effected here Wednesday night in the hall of the Knights of the Golden Eagle with a large Charter list of nearly one hundred members. The Maccabees was organized nearly thirty years ago in Michigan and has now spread over most of the United States and Canada with a membership of nearly 400000. The order was founded to carry fraternal insurance, life sick, and accident on social lines and has been a great success, carrying an insurance reserve of over six million dollars. The ritual work is very instructive and pretty founded on the Book of Maccabees of the Old version of the Old Testament and is military in its handling of ritual and regular Tent work.

Deputy Grand Commander H. W. Philips of Philadelphia who has been here at the Brockerhoff House for three weeks organizing, constituted the Tent Wednesday evening and was very much pleased stating it was the largest Tent ever organized in the state outside of Philadelphia. Mr. Philips stated that he had received the sanction from the Grand Commander to hold the Charter open for two weeks yet which will enable many who could not attend or join before to come into this successful Tent and become Charter members, at the low fee of $3.00. Mr. Philips will remain here for sometime to add to membership list and instruct the officers and degree teams.

The following list is the Charter list of officers elected to serve for the ensuing year and who were duly installed in their respective stations by Deputy Philips.

Post Commander—Geo. T. Bush
Commander—Hardman P. Harris
Lieut. Commander—Fred Reese
Physician—Melvin J. Locke
Record Keeper—J. Bert Robb
Chaplain—John C. Rumberger
Sergeant—Jas Noonan
Master of Arms—Samuel Miller
1st Master of Gd—Frank Holderman
2nd Master of Gd—Harry Rearick
Sentinel—Chas Robb
Picket—Frank Woomer
Trustees 3 years—A. C. Heverly
" 2 years—Harry Gehret
" 1 year—R. R. Oesterreick

After the officers elected had been installed and instructed in their various stations, it was voted to meet next Wednesday night in the Eagles Hall and also voted to hold the Charter list open for two weeks at the low fee.

Refreshments were served in the rooms and all were highly pleased with the success, being the largest Charter list of any society ever organized in Bellefonte.

A very pretty and pleasing feature of the evening just before the closing of the Tent was the presentation by Deputy Grand Commander Philips to Wm. H. Miller the genial and obliging agent of the American Express Co. in Bellefonte, of a beautiful open face 17 jeweled gold watch and Maccabee emblem fob in a pretty silk plush case in which was engraved the date of his birth and date of presentation was September 12th, 1906 which date was his 28th birthday and the "For valuable services from H. W. P." It was a great surprise to Mr. Miller and the event was greatly appreciated by all.

This is a history of the Maccabees both Ancient and Modern from which was founded the order of the Knights of the Maccabees which is now so strong in the United States and Canada and of which order a Tent, as a local body is named, has just been organized in Bellefonte so successfully with a membership of over a hundred.

The history is taken from the Book of Maccabees in the old version of the Bible and which has been left out of the New or King James version.

The Order of the Knights of the Maccabees is founded upon the history and traditions of the Maccabean dynasty. It has for its legend the exploits of Judas Maccabeus, who ranks in ancient history as one of the ablest military leaders the world ever saw. It takes its name from the similiarity of purpose it has to that which actuated the renowned Judas Maccabeus, whose followers assumed his name. They were not of any particular tribe, but were Jews who feared not to face death in defense of their belief in the God of their fathers. The exact meaning of the name "Maccabeus" is veiled in obscurity, but by some is held to be derived from a Hebrew term signifying a hammer. It was deemed to be an appropriate term to describe our hero; who was quick to perceive the situation of his surroundings, a man of indomitable zeal and iron nerve, and capable of dealing telling and decisive blows. He has frequently been ranked as possessing all the military capacity of Julius Cæsar or the first Napoleon, combined with such moral attributes as prevented his pursuing a military vocation for purposes of conquest.

To his untiring efforts, aided by his brothers, were the Jews indebted for the preservation of even the slightest of their power and religious liberty during the dark age in which he lived. The colors he chose were black, symbolical of the dark prospects around him; red, indicative of the fire and zealous love for the right; and white, emblematic of the purity of his motives, the serenity of peace, which his faith taught him would crown his efforts at liberation.

To enable us to appreciate the causes which gave rise to the Maccabean dynasty, it is proper to briefly revert to the history of contemporaneous nations, and it must necessarily be brief, for a full statement of the events connected with this remarkable Maccabean revolt would indeed be a history of the world during that era.

The record of their glorious achievements has been preserved in the first and second books of the "Maccabees" apocryphal writings of the Old Testament.

The founder of the Maccabean dynasty was Mattathias, a Jewish priest. He was the first person who made a stand against the persecutions of the Jewish nation by Antiochus Epiphanes, king of the Syrians.

In the beginning of the second century B. C., the Jews has transferred their allegiance from Egypt to Syria. In return the Syrian king, about 25 years afterward, commanded the Jews to abjure their religious, defiled their sanctuary and exacted the statue of the Olympian Jupiter, to which they were ordered to pay divine honors. This outrage provoked a "thirty years war."

The Syrians were aided by the Hellenists, friends of the Greeks. The cause of the Jewish people was espoused by the family of the Maccabees, so called from its most valient member, Judas Maccabeus, the hammer (Maccab). At the beginning of the troubles, Mattathias and his five sons had retired to Modin, a small place near Jerusalem, to mourn in solitude over the desolation of the holy city and the desecration of the temple.

Mattathias being a person of importance, Apollos, a Syrian captain, endeavored to induce him by tempting promises to relinquish his faith and to embrace the great religion. He answered by slaying with his own hand the first renegade Jew who approached the altar of idolatry. This give the sign to a sudden outbreak

Mattathias and his five sons, together with a handful of faithful men, rose against the national foe, destroyed all traces of heathen worship already established in Modlin and in its neighborhood and then fled into the wilderness of Judah.

The Maccabean dynasty was the mainstay of the revolution. Equally great in defeat and success, they achieved victories over Syrian armies that were much superior to their own in everything but devotion to their cause, while they never allowed their courage to sink under the most crushing adversity. Their numbers soon increased; and not long after they were able to make descents into the adjacent villages and cities.

The death of Mattathias took place a few years after the outbreak (166 B. C.)

Judas Maccabeus then took command of the patriots, and at the battle of Mizpah repulsed the enemy, notwithstanding their superior force (6,000 against 70,000) and again at the battle of Bethsurput to flight the enemies' army (10,000 against 65,000), and at other places followed up their victories against the Syrians, reconquered the city of Jerusalem, purified the temple and reinaugurated the holy service. TRAIN FELL INTO RIVER

Eight Dead and Twenty Injured by Plunge

MANY LIVES LOST

High Water and Driftwood Swerved Bridge out of Line—Survivors Floated Away

TWO PULLMAN REMAINS ON TRACK

Guthrie, Okla., Sept. 19.—Eight persons are dead, 20 more or less injured and as many more missing as the result of the wrecking of a Rock Island passenger train three miles from Dover, Okla.

The engine, tender, baggage and mail cars, smoking car and day coach of passenger train No. 12, northbound, left the high bridge that spans the Cimarron river and plunged into the stream, which is flanked by treacherous quicksands. The locomotive disappeared almost immediately. The mail and baggage clerks escaped from their cars and swam to the shore.

The accident was due to driftwood, which piled against the bridge and swerved it out of line.

The train was an hour late, and was running at high speed. The engineer did not see the condition of the bridge until he was within a few yards of it. He shouted to his fireman and jumped. He landed on the verge of the river and escaped unhurt. The fireman sustained severe injuries.

When the engine struck the bridge the structure collapsed, precipitating the engine, smoking car and day coach into the water. Two Pullmans remained on the track.

The current whirled the day coach down stream and lodged it against a sand bank. The occupants were helped out through the doors and windows. The smoking car floated to a sand bar, and four men were seen to clamber through the windows and pull themselves on top of the car, calling loudly for help. Those on shore were unable to reach them on account of the high water, and while they were begging for assistance a mass of driftwood swept them away.

Three other men crawled through the rear door of the smoking car. They were rescued.

The most authentic accounts place the number of passengers in the smoking car at between 25 and 30. With few exceptions, they have not been accounted for.

One man was fished out of the river at Cashion, 20 miles from the disaster. He was almost dead. Others have been reported floating down the river.

The injured were hurried to Kingfisher, where the residents have turned their homes into temporary hospitals.

It may be impossible to ascertain the exact number of dead for several days. Many of those reported missing may show up safe at some point down the Cimarron.

Sheriff J. Live, of Kingfisher, who was in the smoking car, asserts that there were at least 30 in that car. He said:

"Just as the car was turning on its side I fought my way to the rear and forced my body through the door. When I came to the surface I was swept down stream by the heavy current. When in the last stages of exhaustion I touched bottom and drew myself up on the bank. There were at least 30 others in the smoking car. I saw two beside myself escape."

Floated Thirteen Miles On Wreckage.

Kingfisher, Okla., Sept. 19.—Colonel M. O. Wright, of Denver, has been brought here after having floated on some wreckage about nine miles from the wreck. He was rescued by farmers. Mr. Wright is somewhat bruised, but will recover. W. H. Balmer, of Lawrence, Kans., was rescued 13 miles down the river from the wreck. A negro train porter, who is floating on wreckage, was seen about 14 miles down the river. He shouted to persons on shore that he would "stop at the first station."

Finds Fortune in Barn.

In the barn of a hotel at St. Clairsville, Bedford county, R. H. Willhide, a stove agent, found a wallet containing checks for $8,000 and $1,700 and money of all denominations, amounting, all told, to $7000. In the hotel office he found the owner, a Hollidaysburg man. Willhide turned the money to him, but the only reward was an invitation to visit him in Hollidaysburg.

IT WAS MURDER!

John Kachic was Murdered Before Being Placed on Railroad Track at Clarence.

Wednesday morning about 5:30 o'clock several miners, in the Snow Shoe coal region, were on their way to work, and while passing the railroad station at Clarence, made a gruesome find—That of the body of a man lying along the track of the New York Central. His head and one arm were entirely severed from the body, and they lay in pieces along the track, so that his identification was simply impossible at that time. The men who made the frightful discovery at once made it known, and it was not long before a large crowd assembled on the scene. In the crowd was George Kachic, proprietor of the hotel at Clarence, who after viewing the mangled form, indentified it as his brother John, who was about 38 years of age. At first the general impression was that a cold-blooded murder had been committed and his fellow countrymen became greatly excited over the awful occurrence. After the excitement had subsided the remains were gathered up and taken in charge by an order, to which the deceased belonged. It has since become a question as to whether he was murdered, or whether he was struck by a train sometime Tuesday again.

Tuesday evening, about 8 o'clock, he was at the hotel at Clarence conversing with the patrons of the house, but his brother knows nothing about his whereabouts, after he left for home, which is located only a short distance from the hotel. The deceased was married and is survived by a wife and three sons, the oldest being 16 years of age.

LATER.

In above article we mentioned the fact of the finding of the dead body of John Kachic on the railroad track at Clarence. Workmen going to work on the morning of September 12 found the horribly mutilated body of a man who proved to be Kachic lying along the New York Central tracks. It was identified by George Kachic, proprietor of the Clarence hotel as his brother. The head and one arm was found some distance away from the body.

At first it was thought to have been an accidental death but later developments prove a different story. On Friday Coroner P. S. Fisher and District Attorney W. G. Runkle went to Snow Shoe and instituted an investigation. A jury was empanelled and an inquest and post-mortem examination held. It revealed the fact that the unfortunate man had been murdered before being placed on the track. His body was placed on the railroad to disguise the means of his death.

The man was last seen on Tuesday night about 8 o'clock at the hotel in Clarence. Murder was plainly shown by several stilleto thrusts in the neck, one of which almost severed the jugular vein. Doctors say the man was dead when placed on the railroad track. There is clue to the perpetrators of this deed.

PLENTY OF GAME THIS SEASON.

Observant Sportsmen Say This Will be a Good Year for the Man with the Gun.

That there will be an unsurpassed abundance of game of various species ready for gunners, when the "game laws" barriers are dropped October 1, is the belief of Coleman K. Sober, of Lewisburg, a member of the Pennsylvania state game commission, as well as other sportsmen. Never before in his recollection, and Mr. Sober has been a close student of natural history for over a score of years, can he recall such an apparent supply of grouse, snipe, quail, wild turkeys and deer.

"From every indication," said the game commissioner recently, "I can safely predict that gunners this year will be appalled by the amount of game. I have taken close observation of the promiscuous breeding of birds in Northumberland and Cumberland counties, and the results are surprising. The forest and woodland virtually abound with them. The winter was not especially hard on game. In regions where the birds suffer most farmers provided for them by scattering daily bags of feed in the woods. This set of the farmers saved hundreds from starvation. There was plenty of food this spring and summer, and the birds simply did nothing but eat and grow fat, so as to be in good trim for the gunner in October. When the game season closes it will be difficult to find one gunner who will not declare that the season of 1906 was the best for many years."

WM. J. BRYAN EXPLAINS

Defines His Position On Municipal Ownership of Railroads.

HE SPEAKS ONLY FOR HIMSELF

Declares He Is Not Trying to Force It On Democratic Party and Voters Must Decide For Themselves — Should Give Rate Bill a Trial.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 13.—Entering the southland for the first time in two years, William Jennings Bryan was welcomed with spontaneous gladness. He seized the occasion to read a statement in explanation of his New York speech on government ownership of railways. His reception at the armory, where he addressed 12,000 persons, was wildly enthusiastic.

Following his response to the welcome, a great hush fell on the crowd when Mr. Bryan announced that he would "read a statement concerning a topic which had been generally discussed since he had touched on it during his speech at New York." He then read his statement, which in part follows:

"In my speech at the New York reception I made some remarks concerning the government ownership of railways, and thought that I had expressed myself so clearly that my position could not be misconstrued even by those who desired to misconstrue it.

"After quoting from the Democratic platform of 1900, that 'a private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable,' and after laying it down as a principle that public ownership should begin where competition ends, and that the people should have the benefit of any monopoly that might be found necessary, I sfated that I had reached the conclusion 'that railroads partake so much of the nature of a monopoly that they must ultimately become public property and be managed by public officials in the interests of the whole community.

"This statement of my views has been assailed by some as an attempt to force these views upon the Democratic party, and by some as an announcement of an intention to insist upon the incorporation of these views in the next Democratic national platform.

"If you ask me whether the question of government ownership will be an issue in the campaign of 1908, I answer I do not know. If you ask me whether it ought to be in the platform, I reply, I cannot tell until I know what the Democratic voters think upon the subject. If the Democrats believe that the next platform should contain a plank in favor of government ownership, then that plank ought to be included. If the Democrats think it ought not to contain such a plank, then such a plank ought not to be included. It rests with the party to make the platform, and individuals can only advise. I have spoken for myself, and for myself only, and I did not know how the suggestion would be received. I am now prepared to confess to you that it has been received more favorably than I expected.

"I still advocate strict regulation, and shall rejoice if experience proves that that regulation can be made effective. I will go farther than that and say that I believe we can have more efficient regulation under a Democratic administration with a Democratic senate and house than we are likely to have under a Republican administration with a Republican senate and house, and yet I would not be honest if I did not frankly admit that observation has convinced me that no such efficient regulation is possible, and that government ownership can be undertaken on the plan outlined with less danger to the country than is involved in private ownership as we have had it and are likely to have it.

"Among the reasons that have led me to believe that we must in the end look to government ownership for relief, I shall mention two or three. First and foremost is the corrupting influence of the railway in politics. When the president, following the Democratic platform, insisted upon regulation, he was met with the opposition of the railways, and every point gained in favor of the people was gained after a strenuous fight.

"I have no idea that the railways are going to permit regulation without a struggle, and I fear that their influence will be strong enough to delay, if it does not entirely defeat, remedial legislation.

"Another reason which has led me to favor government ownership is the fact that the people are annually plundered of an enormous sum by extortionate rates; that places are discriminated against and individuals driven out of business by favoritism shown by the railways. You say that all these things can be corrected without interference with private ownership. I shall be glad if experience proves that they can be corrected, but I no longer hope for it."

A Patient Man.

The endurance of the music lover who sits out one of Wagner's long "Ring" operas has often been commented upon, but perhaps not more forcibly than in London. Well up above the stage was a burly figure in homespun, evidently a Scottish farmer who had come to London to see the sights and hear the sounds. After sitting through three long acts he murmured audibly, "'Twas a patient mon that wrote all this!"

TREPOFF FOUND DEAD

Protector of the Czar Died Alone In His Apartments.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 17. — General Trepoff, feeling relieved of the trying duty of protecting his imperial master, who left last Thursday on a cruise to Bjorko, at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon retired to his cabinet to rest, and gave orders taht he should not be disturbed until dinner was served. When at half-past 7 o'clock dinner was announced, General Trepoff did not answer the call, and finally a member of his staff at 8 o'clock knocked at the door of his cabinet. Receiving no reply, he entered and found the general lying stretched out at the foot of his couch, with a newspaper in his hand, dead. It was plain that he had died shortly after he retired to the cabinet, and had been lying for three hours where he fell. Although he died a natural death, the threat of the revolutionists last winter that he would not die by being shot or blown up with a bomb, but would be killed in his own bed, is clearly brought to mind.

PACIFIC LINER AGROUND

The Mongolia Goes Ashore On Reef Near Hawaiian Islands.

Midway Island, North Pacific Ocean, Sept. 17.—The Pacific Mail steamship Mongolia, a sister ship of the Manchuria, is aground on Midway reef, northwest of the Hawaiian Islands. The ship is being lightered and her passengers are being landed safely.

The steamship Mongolia sailed from Yokohama for San Francisco September 10.

The steamer is owned by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company of New York and is a sister ship of the Manchuria, which went ashore on Rabbit Island August 20 and was only floated yesterday (Sunday).

The Mongolia was built at Camden, N. J., in 1904. Her length is 600 feet, beam 65.3, and she registers 13,638 tons gross.

The Manchuria Floated.

Honolulu, Sept. 17. — The Pacific Mail company's steamship Manchuria, which went aground on Rabbit Island August 20, has been successfully floated and is now being towed to this port by the tug Restorer. A great crowd of people watched the Manchuria come in. During the final efforts to pull the Manchuria off the reef, several thousand bags of flour were jettisoned. These washed ashore and were picked up by natives.

POLICEMAN SHOT IN WOODS

Two Pennsylvania Troopers Fired On Foreigner, Who Escaped.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 17.—Herbert Smith, one of the members of the local troop of the state police located at Wyoming, near this city, while out on patrol duty with Frank Gray, a fellow-trooper, in the woods near Yatesville, was shot at by a foreigner, who was hunting in the woods. The load of shot riddled the helmet worn by Smith, while several of the pellets entered his scalp and hands. The troopers opened fire on the poacher, but he escaped in the thick underbrush. A second detail of troopers was sent out from the barracks, but they did not locate him.

Forty Thousand Attend Celebration.

Bliss, Okla., Sept 17.—Forty thousand persons attended the celebration of the 30th anniversary of the opening of the Cherokee Strip at the "101" ranch. The celebration consisted of cowboy and Indian exhibitions. Five hundred Indians took part, including members of the Ponca, Ootoe, Cheyenne, Kaw, Osage and Pawnee tirbes. Four hundred cowboys gave a roping and riding contest.

President's Secretary Going Hunting.

Helena, Mont., Sept. 14.—William Loeb, Jr., private secretary to President Roosevelt, is to leave here on September 20 with George Thompson, publisher of the St. Paul, Minn., Dispatch, on a hunting trip in the Jackson Hole country, south of Yellow stone Park, on September 29.

Negro Lynched for Trivial Oeffnse.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 17.—At Rosebud 100 farmers hanged Mitchell Frazier, a negro, because he pushed Frank Hess, a white farmer, from a walk. Hess struck the negro and the latter used a knife on Hess. The mob stormed the town prison. Mayor Stiping tried to stop them. They pushed him aside, and, breaking in the door, took the negro to a scaffolding supporting a tank and hanged him.

A REMARKABLE ESCAPE

THREE COMPANIONS GO DOWN

Deck Hands of Scow Were Startled to Find Handsomely Dressed Woman In Hold—Had Been Reported to be Dead.

New York, Sept. 17. — Miss Fannie Day, a young department store employe of this city, who was one of a party of eight persons in a naphtha launch which was capsized in the lower bay, had the most remarkable escape from death by drowning that any human being probably has ever experienced. Three of her companions were swept to the bottom when the launch, with disabled engines, was run into by a mud scow. Miss Day had gone down with the others, and when nothing was seen of her for hours afterward it was reported she had met death. But when the mud scow had been towed nearly to its destination and the deck hands were adjusting the dumping apparatus at the bottom, they were startled to find a handsomely dressed young woman in one of the pockets. Miss Day had been literally scooped out of the water by the pumping machinery, which had been left open after the scow discharged its last load at sea.

Miss Day was just regaining consciousness when discovered, and had begun to call feebly for help. She had been stunned when the collision occurred, and had been engulfed by the waters and given up for lost. The young woman was hysterical throughout most of the day, and her nerves are shattered from the harrowing experience.

Two women and one man who were in the launch were drowned, while three men and one woman, the latter Miss Mabel Cook, a friend and room mate of Miss Day, was picked up by passing craft soon after the accident occurred. Boats remained at the scene of the collision for some time in the hope of picking up additional survivors, but it was concluded all the others had gone down until news was received of Miss Day's extraordinary escape.

Miss Day said when the collision came they all worked to to keep the boat up right, but it turned turtle.

"I went down deep, but finally came up ever so slowly," she said. "I was gasping for breath and kicking with all my might and main. Finally my head hit something and I could rise no more. I was terribly frightened, and although it all took place in an instant, it seemed a lifetime to me. I was half suffocating, but had presence of mind enough left to feel along with my hands over my head.

"Suddenly, like a cork, I bobbed up in an open space. For a minute I did not dare to open my eyes, but just floated calmly and drew in long breaths of air. When I did look up, I was surprised to find I was inside a wooden square. At first I couldn't make out what it was, and then it dawned on me that I was inside the scow.

"I cried for help, but no one came. I tried to climb up the sides, but they were slimy and slippery. Finally I secured a resting place on some chains after having swam for an hour at least.

"By and by an old man looked over into the well. He said: 'How the devil did you get there?'

"I never saw such a scared man in my life. I yelled: 'Throw me a rope if you don't want me to drown.' He did so, and I wound it around my waist and arm, and he pulled me up on deck."

Big Band of Counterfeiters Arrested.

Paris, Sept. 17.—The police discovered a band of expert coiners, having international connection, and 50 members of it were arrested, including several Latin quarter students, whose parents hold high official positions. The students are implicated for having passed the money, most of which was in 10 and 20 franc pieces. The process used by the counterfeiters was an almost perfect one, the coins being electroplated with gold dust. It is estimated that 200,000 francs of this money has been passed during the last six months. The band operated also in England and Germany and was making preparations to open business in Chicago and Buenos Ayres.

PUPILS MUST BE VACCINATED

Pennsylvania Attorney General Says Schools Are Open Only to Such.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 15.—Attorney General Carson sent a letter to Levy N. Christman, of Strausstown, Berks county, in which he states that it is the imperative duty imposed by statute, sustained by the supreme court, upon every teacher to exclude an unvaccinated pupil from the schools.

The attorney general adds that the schools are open to vaccinated children only, and that any teacher who tolerates the presence of an unvaccinated child or fails to require the production from a reputable doctor of a certificate of vaccination or a previous case of smallpox is a violator of the law.

Germany's Richest Prince Dead.

Berlin, Sept. 14.—Albrecht, prince of Prussia, regent of the Duchy of Brunswick, and the richest prince in Germany, died. Death followed a stroke of apoplexy.

Predicts End of the World in 1982.

Edward Scribner Stevens, Ph. D., "the great Bible scholar and chronologist," as his card put it, gow of Washington, but formerly of Lebanon, Pa., predicts more disastrous earthquakes, and says the end of the world will come in 1982. This is the explanation he gives of conditions.

"The earth is out of her place, or upright position. It is gradually resuming it. Whenever there is an accelerated of faster motion, then, in that period, earthquakes occur. We are now in one of those periods, from Mount Pellee, 1900 to 1915. Again from 1925 to 1946½; again from 1965 to 2000 A. D.

"In 1982 the earthquakes is of such extent that all the cities of all the nations fall. From 2035 to 3144 A. D., the earth is in continual perturbation, and in latter years settles to its upright position. This brings in the new heaven and new earth."

Stevens says after the flood the earth slipped a quarter way round on its axis, and is now regaining its normal position. He points with glee to the fact when Wellman and other explorers go searching for the north pole, up above Iceland, they are really on the trail of the actual equator, and that it wouldn't be the north pole if they found it. Stevens says that every once in awhile some cause sends the earth about more rapidly than usual, and earthquakes result. To use his own words:

"The exoteric principle of this is that whenever the velocity of the terraqueous oblate period which we inhabit becomes excessively accelerated in its paracentric deviation from its accustomed orbit, and the moment of its revolutions through the atmosphere increases in a correspondingratio, the extraordinary conditions combine to produce tremendous subterraneous concussions, which necessarily execute much desolation on the surface."

Did You Get One?

About 20,000 invitations to the dedication of the Capitol at Harrisburg October 4th, have been issued by the State Capitol Dedication Commission. These invitations are handsomely engraved and contain a small view of the Capitol. They will be sent to the governors of all the States, members of Congress, foreign Ambassadors and Ministers, prominent Pennsylvanians —and editors.

The idea of a banquet or luncheon as a part of the ceremonies has been abandoned. It was deemed advisable to do that because of the large number of invitations to be issued and the necessity of selecting a comparatively small number of guests for the banquet. Then too, the President will be in Harrisburg but a short time, only four hours, and the Governor has decided to entertain him at luncheon at the mansion.

The ceremonies of dedication will start promptly at 11.15 a. m. This presidential party will arrive from Washington at 11 05.

Two Accidents.

A very serious accident happened on Tuesday afternoon at the Pletcher home above town. Mr. Henry Pletcher was picking apples and the limb broke letting him fall to the ground. Mr. Pletcher is aged about 65 years, and sustained a broken collar bone, broken wrist, back badly bruised and hurt otherwise. He is said to be in a very serious condition.

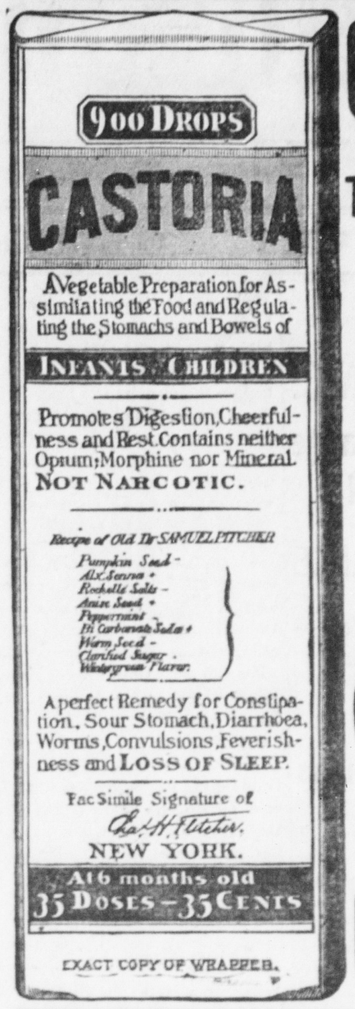

While descending from a straw mow on Wednesday afternoon at the barn at the residence of Henry Thompson, the ladder broke and Mr. Christian Holter fell to the floor breaking his collar bone. Howard Hustler.

The Cure For Scandal.

It is told of Hannah More that she had a good way of managing tale-bearers. It is said that whenever she was told anything derogatory of another her invariable reply was: "Come we will go and ask if this be true." The effect was sometimes ludicrously painful. The talebearer was taken back, stammered out a qualification or else begged that no notice might be taken of the statement. But the good lady was inexorable. Off she took the scandalmonger to the scandalized to make inquiry and compare accounts. It is not likely that anybody ever a second time ventured to repeat a gossipy story to Hannah More, says Modern Women. One would think her method for treatment would be a sure cure for scandal.

Found Dying in Stable.

Milton Frontz, of Penn township, Lycoming county, suffered a stroke o apoplexy Monday evening while in his stable. He was found in a dying condition lying within a few feet of a horse's heels. He was carried into the house and died shortly after. He was 65 years of age and is survived by a widow and family of adult children.

Cancer Secret Found; Remedy Now in Sight.

Dr. Otto Schmidt, of Cologne has succeeded in making cultures of the cancer bacillus in a certain mildew forming on plants. When transferred to animals the bacillus caused genuine cancer.

"I am the first man to prove that cancer can be artificially produced on animals."

Dr. Schmidt showed several animals with cancer communicated through injection. He declared that a remedy for cancer was now possible. Since he discovered the bacillus, Dr. Schmidt has been experimenting with the remedy, which has given good results, but apparently a cure is only possible when the case is little advanced.

Where the ulceration was old, however, the diseases was brought to a standstill, and the condition of the patient showed great improvement. Dr. Schmidt has not told what his remedy is, but it is not a serum.

Indications of a Severe Winter.

All the goose bone and tree mark prophets seem to be agreed that the unusual heat of this summer will be followed by a regular old fashioned "hard" winter.

In this the "prophets" are supported by the records of the United States Weather Bureau, which show that the general average of temperature, year after year, runs about the same, mild or severe seasons of heat being followed by similar conditions of cold.

Automobile Club.

Monday evening the Automobile Club of Centre county held a meeting in W. Harrison Walker's law office in the interest of good roads throughout the county. It was presided over by the president, Prof. Geo. Watson, of State College. The members present were: A. C. Mingle, Robert Hunter, W. Harrison Walker, John P. Lyon, Charles Mensch, John S. Walker, John Olewine, Dr. R. G. H. Hayes and Hugh Crider. Much interest and enthusiasm was manifested toward the adoption of some method whereby the public thoroughfares of the county should be put in first-class condition. This is not a spasmodic outburst of enthusiasm along this line, but the members of the club will in the future, spare no efforts to have something definite accomplished. The amusing feature connected with this meeting was the automobile parade, during the forepart of the evening, the route being from Pleasant Gap to Bellefonte.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

MISS L. L. CLARK. Indianapolis.

"DO IT TO-DAY!"

"And to think that ten months ago I looked like this! I owe it to German Syrup."

¶The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. ¶Take some reliable remedy for it TO-DAY—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. ¶No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. ¶New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

A modest but very pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Flegal, in Philipsburg, when their daughter Miss Iva, was married to Rober S. Womer, son of O. S. Womer, of North Philipsburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. J. Head, and was witnessed by only the immediate friends of the contracting parties. A hearty supper was enjoyed at the close of the ceremony. The bride and groom are very worthy young people, and enter the marriage ranks under auscicious circumstances. Instead of taking a wedding trip at this time they will go directly to housekeeping with the best wishes of their many friends.

Cat, Half Owner of $40,000 House, Dies

Pinkey, one of the two famous cats of Wilkes-Barre to whom Benjamin Dilley bequeathed $40,000, and provided a home and a nurse, died Wednesday morning after receiving tender care and being treated by able physicians. Pinkey developed a tumor in her throat and it gave her such pain that she was chloroformed with the consent of the executors of the estate.

For 13 years Pinkey and Blackie had been the pets of the late Benjamin F. Dilley, who died 18 months ago. When his will was read it contained a provision for the care of the cats, bequething to them a building valued at $40,000, the two upper floors to be their home until they died, and provided a nurse, Miss Ada Rice, for them at $75 a month.

Every door in the house had a hole in it for the cats to pass throug, and they occupied soft beds made in large baskets.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

STRIVING FOR PEACE

Cuban Government Making Strenuous Efforts to Avoid Intervention.

FOLLOWING ROOSEVELT'S ADVICE

President Palma Issues Decree Suspending Military Operations During Parley For Peace—Taft Starts For Havana.

Havana, Sept. 12.—The government is making final strenuous efforts to restore peace in Cuba and thus avoid any kind of American intervention. The object of these endeavors, it is stated, is that it may be able to say by the time Secretary Taft and Acting Secretary of State Bacon arrive that peace already has been secured and that therefore there is no need for the American government's intervention, either to restore peace or insure permanent tranquillity.

Members of the government say they are making the efforts in accordance with the advice contained in President Roosevelt's letter; that they have no objection to friendly assistance of the United States in case it becomes necessary, but that they believe they can settle it between the government and the revolutionists without the necessity of any intervention. At least, they say, they are making an attempt to accomplish this end unaided and with fair prospects of success.

This is the latest phase of a rapidly-changing situation that developed when an extraordinary gazette was issued containing a decree signed by President Palma on the recommendation of the Secretary of Public Works Montalvo. The decree follows:

"All campaign operations are suspended, and in consequence the government forces will act only on the defensive throughout the republic. The secretary of the interior will issue all the necessary orders for the execution of this decree."

The decree caused great surprise, as it was believed to signify a change of heart by the government officials, who for the past two days have been strongly against taking up peace overtures with the emissaries of the revolutionists.

Secretary Montalvo and General Menocal first visited Jose Miguel Gomez and others of the alleged conspirators in the prison and found them willing to co-operate in securing peace. The basis of peace was not discussed in any detail, but Secretary Montalvo returned to the palace and urged President Palma to consider the matter. The president called a conference. The result of this conference was the issuance of the decree suspending governmental campaign operations.

After the decree was issued, government emissaries were dispatched in automobiles to confer with the revolutionists. General Menocal, accompanied by Congressman Gobin and Garcia Vieta, the youngest son of Calixto Garcia, drove in the direction where Alfredo Zayas was encamped with Castillo's forces, not far from Santiago de Las Vegas, and others went to Guanajay, which place was occupied by a big band of revolutionists under Congressman Campos Marquetti. The latter had Mayor Galles and the 200 volunteers defending the town cooped up in a carcel and surrounded by a swarm of insurgents. The mayor has defied Campos Marquetti, and was still holding out when the peace emissaries arrived. Meanwhile Campos Marquetti was threatening to blow up the carcel with dynamite.

The three American warships are the most imposing and interesting objects in Havana bay. Their presence, undesignedly yet pointedly, is typical of the fact that it is the intention of the United States to take a hand in Cuban affairs to the extent at least of bringing order out of the present chaotic conditions.

The cruiser Des Moines arrived Saturday and the auxiliary cruiser Dixie, with 250 marines on board and ready at a moment's notice to land field pieces and rapid-five guns, came later, and was ordered to proceed to Cienfuegos. It is believed that the small force of the gunboat Marietta is not considered a sufficient guard, owing to the conditions in the besieged city.

If Commander Colwell's mission here was in the nature of making peace negotiations he could hardly be more busy. He is receiving delegates representing the insurgents and even some of the insurgents themselves, who are anxious, through him, to negotiate peace of some kind. He has held consultations with these emissaries, but declines to do otherwise than recommend that they go to their government.

TAFT STARTS FOR CUBA

Washington, Sept. 17. — Secretary Taft and Assistant Secretary of State Robert Bacon left Washington Sunday over the Atlantic Coast Line for Tampa, Fla., to embark on a naval vessel there for Havana, in accordance with the instructions of President Roosevelt to ascertain the exact political situation.

It was announced at the navy department that the battleships Louisiana, Virginia and New Jersey have been ordered down the Atlantic coast on a shake down cruise and they have been directed to keep in touch with the government at Washington by wireless telegraphy and if necessary in the event of an emergency arising they will be sent to Havana. It was also stated that the cruisers Tacoma and the Cleveland have sailed from Norfolk, Va., and that the cruisers Minneapolis and Newark will follow them. The Minneapolis and Newark carry about 700 men altogether and the Tacoma 150. Should all these vessels go to Havana the navy would be able to land a force of 4000 men in Cuba by Wednesday or Thursday, if any developments should occur rendering such action necessary.

THINK IT MEANS ANNEXATION

Paris Newspapers Believe Uprising Will End Cuban Independence.

Paris, Sept. 17.—Lively interest is manifested here over President Roosevelt's decision to send Secretary of War Taft and Acting Secretary of State Bacon to Cuba, and many of the newspapers jump to the conclusion that this will sound the knell of Cuban independence. In responsible circles, however, the right of the United States, under the treaty with Cuba, to restore order is recognized, but there is no disposition to impute to the Washington government a desire to seize the occasion to annex the island. Nevertheless, it is thought by some persons that even if the wise counsel of President Roosevelt is followed and the rival factions temporarily bury the hatchet that there will be an early recurrence of the insurrection which will compel ultimate annexation.

MR. BRYAN ON CUBA

Declares We Have No Business Interfering With Their Local Affairs.

Roanoke, Va., Sept. 17.—William Jennings Bryan gave out the first expression he has made on the present Cuban situation. When seen in his car just before he left here for Lynchburg, and asked if he would say anything about the situation in Cuba, and whether, in his opinion, the United States should intervene, Mr. Bryan dictated the following statement:

"I am very glad that the administration recalled the troops landed at Havana. While we should do all in our power to bring about peace by offering the good offices of our country, we have no business interfering with their local affairs. They must settle the disputes among themselves, but I would be glad if both parties would be willing to accept mediation with the idea of bringing about an agreement through the good offices of our government."

Mr. Bryan pointed out that this expression was the first he has made on the present situation in the island, and this was all he cared to say.

Swallowed Her Dead Husband.

The only case on record of a disconsolate widow swallowing the remains of her dead husband is that of Artemesia drinking a glass of wine in which the ashes of Mausolus had been stirred for that purpose. The parties to this remarkable transaction were brother and sister and also husband and wife. Mausolus was king of Caria and reigned about 300 years before Christ. After his death his remains were burned and the ashes disposed of as related.

A Horse Story.

Our Dumb Animals tells a remarkable story about the intelligence of a mare who saved her colt from death by stopping a train on a railroad in Texas. The colt had fallen with its legs through a railroad bridge, and the mother started down the track to meet the coming train. As the train came up she stood on the track whinnying. The train stopped, and then the mare trotted ahead of it as it moved slowly to the bridge. Here the colt was discovered and extricated from its perilous position. The story was vouched for by the engineer, railroad men and passengers in the train.

STONES SET ON FIRE.

Truly Remarkable Action of Sea Water In Ireland.

All the talk was of the old country, its marvelous beauty, its marvelous happenings, and Casey said to the Texan:

"The sea setting fire to tall cliffs—you wouldn't believe that possible, I suppose."

"Assuredly not," returned the Texan. "Neither in Ireland nor elsewhere."

"By those words," said Casey, smelling his shamrock tenderly, "you prove your ignorance of Ireland, sir, and show you have never been to Ballybunion.

"The tall cliffs of Ballybunion wade knee deep in the rough Atlantic. They are the bulwarks of Erin's west coast, and since the world's beginning the wild Atlantic surges, breaking against them, have eaten them out in caves and hollows.

"These cliffs of Ballybunion contain in their depths masses or iron pyrites and alum. Now and then the salt sea water eats into these masses, and oxidization at once takes place, and flames burst forth, and the rocks crack and melt in the great heat.

"Once the cliffs of Ballybunion burned for weeks. Like a volcano, they sent up yellow flame and black, foul smelling, bitter smoke, and the Irish came from hundreds of miles to see that wonderful sight.

"Only in Ireland, only in Ballybunion, sir," said Casey, fingering his shamrock, "may you see cliffs set afire by the salt sea they stand knee deep in."—Minneapolis Journal.

Alfalfa as a Forage Crop.

Wherever alfalfa will make a satisfactory growth and will stand the rigor of the winter, it yields a most satisfactory crop either for hay or for soiling. It will produce in Pennsylvania three or four cuttings during the season which should yield from 2 1-2 to 5 tons of hay per acre. As alfalfa hay is somewhat richer in protein than clover hay its great value as a fodder can readily be understood, particularly as the various classes of farm stock relish it quite as well as, if not better than they do clover hay.

Alfalfa, however, has not proven an exception to the many new crops and appliances that have been extensively commended. New things are often praised by enthusiasts far beyond that which the average good farmer is able to realize, under what may be called average conditions. While perhaps alfalfa has not been boomed beyond its merits wherever it will thrive well, yet its cultivation has been recommended in an indiscriminating way which has proven more or less deceptive without sufficient regard to existing conditions.

Sufficient attempts have been made to cultivate alfalfa to show that it will thrive well on loamy, gravelly, sandy or even limestone clay soils of Pennsylvania that are deep and are well drained. Fairly compact soils have produced good crops where the drainage was sufficiently complete. It is most essential in the cultivation of this crop to have the land well drained. It does best on deep porous soils that do not have a tendency to heave. Wherever clover will heave, the soil may be said to be too wet for the successful growth of alfalfa. On damp soils it may thrive fairly well during the summer but will not stand severe freezing.

On account of the more abundant growth of weeds and grass in the spring and early summer, late summer or early fall seeding is recommended. If the land is cultivated during the early part of the season and seeded to alfalfa in July or August, ideal conditions, so far as the establishment of the young plants is concerned, will be most nearly approached. August or September seeding may succeed well, if the soil is fine and contains sufficient moisture for germination and for a rapid growth of the young plant.

A moderate application of commercial fertilizers containing phosphoric acid and potash has proven satisfactory in most cases. In some instances the results have been very marked. It is recommended to apply the fertilizer at the time of sowing the seed. A light top dressing of farm manure after seeding will afford some protection to young plants during first winter and is recommended under ordinary conditions. The most satisfactory results have been obtained from sowing the seed broadcast at the rate of 20 to 30 pounds per acre. This should be harrowed in well. From experiments made on the Experiment Station farm and also in Lancaster County, Turkeytan alfalfa has not proven superior or even as good as common alfalfa.

The application of lime before seeding to alfalfa has not given uniform results. In some instances the lime has proven beneficial but in other cases negative results were obtained and in one or two instances decided injury resulted. In no case in our experience has it been applied to marked advantage.

Alfalfa should be cut either for hay or as green forage whenever it it coming into blossom. Do not wait until it is in full bloom. At this stage the stalks are too woody to be eaten with relish. Cutting should not be delayed later than when the plants are one fourth in bloom.

In conclusion it may be said that alfalfa should be much more generally grown in Pennsylvania than it is at present. It may undoubtedly be grown satisfactorily where at the present time it is quite unknown. On farms where dairy cattle or sheep are kept, its great value as a forage crop is most fully appreciated. When once well established it will yield good crops of green forage or hay for many years. The increasing difficulty experienced by the farmers of Pennsylvania in securing good stands of clover tends to make alfalfa a most valuable crop wherever it can be grown.

Masked Pair Relieve Tax Man of His Cash.

Charles Williams, tax collector of Gibson township, Cameron county, was waylaid Wednesday and robbed of $600 which he was carrying to Emporium to deposit in a bank.

Williams was driving from his home at Mason Hill to Emporium, and two masked men, one carry a rifle, stepped out of the woods and made him deliver his bank roll. The man with the gun then kept the weapon turned on him and the other took to the woods with the money.

After some minutes gained in that way for the robbers, Williams was commanded to drive on. The men cannot be identified owing to the care with which they had arranged their masks.

Did as she Threatened.

A certain young man in Middleburg called upon a young lady last week and in the course of the evening he resolved to kiss her, and he made known his intention. She said, "John if you do I will scream." He didn't believe her however and he undertook the liberty, and in a moment he performed the act with a rousing good smack. The young lady screamed and brought her father and mother down stairs into the room. "What on earth is the matter?" exclaimed the mother. The young man stood at the piano almost paralyzed with fear, wishing the roof would fall and bury everybody, the young lady by this time was standing on the sofa. The mother demanded an explanation. The young lady then told her mamma that she had seen a mouse and it frightened her almost to death. Her parents went to their room and the young man kissed her until she couldn't have told a mouse from a mule.

EMERY MUST ANSWER

Serious Allegations Which the Candidate For Governor Must Meet.

CASTLE AND SWALLOW SPEAK

The Democratic-Lincolnite Nominee Called Upon to Declare Himself Upon Serious Matters In the State Canvass.

[Special Correspondence.]

Harrisburg, September 18.

Lewis Emery, Jr., the Democratic-Lincolnite candidate for governor, has been on the defensive ever since he was nominated.

He has been charged with many delinquencies, to put it mildly, and he has failed to answer a single charge.

He has been accused of placing the church upon the same plan with the brewery, he has been condemned for attacking the Standard Oil company while being a partner in an oil trust, which, as far as it goes, is quite as much of a public menace as is the Rockefeller trust. He has been condemned for failure to appreciate the Christian spirit evinced in the maintenance of the Sabbath, he has been weakened by the attacks that have been made upon him for accepting rebates from the railroads, while proclaiming to the world his unalterable opposition to the system which has been denounced by every Republican orator that has appeared upon the platform during the present campaign, and he has shown a personal weakness in meeting such issues, that have, in the opinion of many, practically put him out of the race for the governorship.

Homer L. Castle, the Prohibition candidate for governor, accentuated the issue of "the Church vs. the Brewery," in his speech delivered recently in Harrisburg, when he said:

"I must insist that Mr. Emery is not fit to be the governor of this state, because his mental ideals are low and tremendously warped. He sits down in cold blood and writes a letter to a man, in which he puts the church and the school house and the hospital on a parity with a brewery. Just think of it!

As to the Church.

"The church, which, aside from the home, is the only institution which has Divine sanction and ordination.

"The church, which has stood for these ages as the sign present of God with man.

"The church, into whose life has been poured the thoughts of the best men and women that have ever lived.

"The church, for whose life so many men have laid down theirs and willingly surrendered all they had and were, that it might have life.

"The church, whose spires point the mariner on life's sea the way to the better.

"The church, into whose portals you and I went as boys, and where first the minister of God laid his hands in blessing on our heads.

"The church, where our names were enrolled and where every Sabbath we meet and catch a fresh breath from the atmosphere of higher life.

"The church, to whose altar you and I led the woman who became part and parcel of our lives, and heard the minister say, 'Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder.'

"The church, through whose door we carried for the last time the body of a sainted mother.

"The church, that comes to the bedside as all things terrestrial seems to recede from us, and touching our fading eyesight, makes us to see glories beyond. This church is no better, in the ideas of Lewis Emery, than a brewery, and I am not objecting to Mr. Emery's ideals.

"Some have said that he is honest when he makes these statements. Let that stand for the fact, and his very honesty makes him the more ineligible as the governor of a Christian commonwealth.

"The objection that I urge to him is not that he believes that the church and the brewery are upon a level, but that the man who does believe that ought not to be foremost in a Christian commonwealth.

"We have in this state approximately 5000 ministers of that church; we have at least 5,000,000 attendants upon the public services of that church, and, to put it in the parlance of the street, I say it is up to that church to demonstrate by declining to support Mr. Emery, that it does not believe that it is a fact that they are no better than the brewery."

Mr. Castle then gave testimony as to the great work of the public schools and the hospitals of the commonwealth, which, he said, Mr. Emery had, with the church, linked in the same category of the breweries.

He recounted a story about Mr. Emery making a speech on a Sunday at a gathering of Italians, "where beer flowed freely," and on this point he said, among other things: "I do not ask Mr. Emery to reverence the Christian Sabbath day. I do not insist that he shall go to church; I do not even insist that he shall not attend Italian brawls, but I do insist that the man who does that is not fit to be governor of a Christian commonwealth.

"Beyond the peradventure of a doubt, it is the duty of the church to take a hand in this fight, not alone for the maintenance of its own honor, but for the maintenance of the honor of the country."

Mr. Castle then discussed at length Mr. Emery's business operations, declaring that the Pure Oil company, with which he had been identified, is as much of a trust in its way as is the Standard Oil company.

Upon this point, among other things, he said:

"I have said, furthermore, that Mr. Emery is not sincere in his opposition to the present Republican reign. It is known that Mr. Emery has as his partners in the Pure Oil Company such men as McNichol, Durham and Mack. Mr. Emery has been repeatedly asked to show the people of this state the books where these men paid (if they ever did pay) for the stock which they hold. He has been asked to tell what relations this stock has to the New Jersey legislative manipulations and the Pennsylvania legislature; heretofore, so far as I know, he has never given any reply to this. If he does not tell that miserable story, I will tell it in due time.

"It is of very recent date that he has opposed Senator Penrose. I am reliably informed that about the time that Judge Stewart declined to be the Republican candidate, Mr. Emery, in company with Mr. Woodbury, of Schuylkill county, and some others, visited Senator Penrose in Washington and undertook to make a deal with him."

Mr. Emery has been seeking to make political capital out of his attacks upon the Standard Oil company.

He has as yet failed to answer Mr. Castle's direct charge that Mr. Emery's oil interests have been beneficiaries of rebates, quite as much as has the Standard Oil company in their limited way.

Upon this subject Mr. Castle, at Corry, last week said:

"Is this canvass of Lewis Emery, Jr., a fair, candid, honest canvass, based upon actual conditions of the men themselves, or is it a pure sham and a fake and a fraud? As bearing upon that I am reminded of the fact that Lewis Emery appeared before the industrial commission and gave testimony, in 1899, and by turning to page 669, volume 1, of the printed reports of that commission, we find this interesting bit of information:

Emery's Old Testimony.

"These questions were directed to Mr. Emery when on the witness stand, and the answers are his:

"'Have you frequently in your business enjoyed rebates?' was asked Mr. Emery, and his reply follows:

"'No, sir; never. Now let me modify that. In my business previous to 1872, in the refinery in Titusville, Pa., rebates were a common thing, but we were young and new in the commercial business, and fellows in Cleveland and Pittsburg were a little more experienced. We didn't seem to make very much money. They were running full tilt with their wells, barrel shops and everything, and we began to look about to see what was the matter. We went to Pittsburg, and learned to our astonishment that certain concerns were getting 25 cents a barrel. We were large shippers, and we demanded to be granted the same. That was away back in 1870. We were given 25 cents; and then we got on to the fact that some refiners were receiving 75 cents back and some other refiners were receiving 50 cents. The rate at that time was in the neighborhood of $1.50, and oil could be carried at a profit today at 25 cents. From that time to this, no, I am not guilty.'

"It is, perhaps, interesting also to note that there is filed with the interstate commerce commission in Washington a paper showing that as late as 1897 the Emery Manufacturing company, of Bradford, was shipping to the Emery Manufacturing company, at Buffalo, N. Y., by the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg railroad, a large number of cars that were billed as acid, when in fact they contained oil. The rate on acid was 5 cents per 100 pounds, and the rate on oil was 8½ cents. And in that way they were getting rebates on their oil by falsely billing the oils which they were shipping to Buffalo, and which were being paid for by W. H. Foote & Co."

Castle's Defi to Emery.

"Mr. Castle challenged Mr. Emery to prove the charge that the Castle company was being financed by the Standard Oil company. If the charge were proven, Mr. Castle said, he would retire from the contest. "If I fail to prove any of the charges I have made against Mr. Emery, I will also quit the field," Mr. Castle said, "and if Mr. Emery does not explain away those charges, then he should quit the contest.

"In respect to receiving Standard Oil money, we are better than Mr. Emery is. He at one time, about 1885, went broke, and he went to New York to secure help from the Standard Oil company, and that company discovering that he had a lot of iron tanks on his hands that were really junk, bought them from him, paid him about $350,000 for them, and he took that money and reinstated himself. And after he had received the money he declared publicly, and I am prepared to prove it, if he ever again raised his hands against the Standard Oil company he hoped God would wither them from his body. Is he keeping that vow now in this false-pretense campaign of his?"

Dr. Silas C. Swallow, late Prohibition candidate for president, has been even more personal than Mr. Castle in his public comments upon Mr. Emery.

In a recent Harrisburg speech Dr. Swallow

Dr. Swallow's Hot Shot.

"Having fought nearly to a finish the Quay gang for 10 or more years, we are not quite content to have foisted on us a fake reformer or counterfeit who has used in his business, as we have the court records to prove, the very identical methods employed by the Standard Oil company, public prejudice against which is the popular hobby on which he proposes to ride into undeserved power.

"The kind of a man we want in the gubernatorial chair might be descibed by a description of the kind we don't want. We don't want a protege of the almost defunct Quay dynasty, nor of the corporate influence of the state. Nor do we want a man whose efforts for reform have enriched himself and his friends from the coffers of those whom he professes to hate and fight; nor one whose crusade for reform has been confined to the furtherance of his own monetary interests; nor one who places the brewery on a parity with the church, the school and the hospital."

After some very direct references to Mr. Emery's alleged personal habits, Dr. Swallow said: "We must not put into the gubernatorial chair an egotistic boaster or a man of low breeding or of salacious views of society, or one who put the people of our great state to shame by his coarse politics, manners and methods."

COMPROMISED BANK'S CLAIM

Joseph Wainwright Placed In False Position By Dead Bank President.

Philadelphia, Sept. 19.—After a four-hours' conference between Receiver Earle, of the defunct Real Estate Trust company, District Attorney Bell and George S. Graham, counsel for Joseph R. Wainwright, Mr. Earle announced that a compromise had been reached concerning the claim for $250,000 which the receiver made against Mr. Wainwright.

Mr. Earle stated that the trust company is not in possession of the original note on which the loan was made, but other evidence was found which Mr. Wainwright says was fraudulently created by Frank K. Hipple, the suicide president of the bank. Mr. Wainwright does not acknowledge his liability, but claims that through the manipulations of Hipple he has been placed in a false position.

Assents to Mr. Earle's plan for reorganizing the trust company have been received from depositors representing $4,000,000. The first cash to be realied on the disposition of any of the enterprises of Adolf Segal, the promoter whose heavy borrowings wrecked the bank, was received by Mr. Earle in the form of a check for $10,000, obtained through the sale of some of Segal's properties in Altoona, Pa.

O'BRIEN AND BERGER MATCHED

For Twenty-five or More Rounds At Colima, Cal., On Thanksgiving Day.

San Francisco, Sept. 19. — Jack O'Brien and Sam Berger held a conference with Manager Coffroth and agreed to fight 25 rounds or more with Colina on Thanksgiving day.

The articles call for a 40-round or a finish battle, to take place in the daytime. The fighters are to receive 66 2-3 per cent. of the receipts, of which 75 per cent. goes to the winner and 25 per cent. to the loser. The fighters and the club will share equally in the pictures.

There is to be no hitting in the clinches. The referee must be chosen 10 days before the fight, but if the men cannot agree on a man, the club shall make the selection. If bandages are worn they must be approved by two judges and the referee.

This agreement will be modified in some respects. The battle will probably be for 25 rounds instead of 40.

Penna. Catholic Knights of America.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 19.—The 12th biennial state convention of the Catholic Knights of America was held in Carbondale, all the business being transacted in two sessions. The following officers were elected: President, Joseph McLoughlin, of Shamokin; vice president, William P. Malloy, of Carbondale; treasurer, P. McGinty, Philadelphia; spiritual director, Rt. Rev. Mons. T. F. Coffey, V. G., of Carbondale. James Pidgeon, of Carbondale, and Thomas McComiskey, of Philadelphia, were selected as delegates to the national convention to be held in Cincinnati in May, 1907.

Many New Members for Miners' Union

Tower City, Pa., Sept. 19.—According to the report of Secretary-Treasurer George H. Hartelin, of the United Mine Workers of America, of the Ninth district, now in annual session here, the membership increased 5000 in August. The organization, he said, is in better condition than ever before. This is the result of the new system of collecting dues at the collieries on pay days. This was one of the concessions granted by the operators when the men agreed to return to work last May.

Made Lead Nickels For Slot Machines.

Petroskey, Mich., Sept. 19. — Lee Crown, Harry Williams and Harold Williams were arrested by Secret Service Officer Eberstein, of Cleveland, and Sheriff Smith, on a charge of counterfeiting. They are alleged to have made lead nickels with which to play slot machines, and a number of these coins are alleged to have been found in their possession.

99 Eleventh street, Milwaukee, Wis.

Peruna Drug M'f'g. Co.,

Dear Sirs:—A short time ago I found my condition very serious. I had headache, pains in the back, and frequent dizzy spells which grew worse every month. I tried two remedies before Peruna, and was discouraged when I took the first dose, but my courage soon returned. In less than two months my health was restored."

—Mrs. M. Brickner.

The reason for so many failures to cure cases similar to the above is the fact that diseases peculiar to the pelvic organs are not commonly recognized as being caused by catarrh.

PELVIC DISEASE NOT RECOGNIZED AS CATARRH.

Catarrh of one organ is exactly the same as catarrh of any other organ. What will relieve catarrh of the head will also relieve catarrh of the pelvic organs. Peruna relieves these cases simply because it relieves catarrh.

Long and Useful Life of Joseph W. Hubbard, of Beech Creek, is Ended.

Joseph W. Hubbard, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Beech Creek township died at his residence at that place Monday morning at 6 o'clock, of disease incident to old age, aged 82 years.

Deceased was well and favorably known to a majority of the people of Clinton county, having served a term as county commissioner from 1882 to 1885. He had been for the greater part of his life a member of the M. E. church and was, until rendered too infirm by reason of his years, a regular attendant to all of the church services. For 35 years he was a class leader in the church. For a great many years he lived on and tilled the Fredericks farm near Mill Hall. In 1870 he bought what is now known as the Hubbard homestead, at which place he continued to reside until the time of his death. He was twice married and is survived by the following children by his first wife: Graffius W. Hubbard, of Lock Haven; William C., Horace H., Joseph H., and Mrs. Priscilla Gunsallus, all of Patton; Mrs. Kate Williams, of Bellefonte; and Miss Annie at home. Also survived by his second wife, one son, Morris, and one daughter, Charlotte, all at home.

Funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services in the Beech Creek M. E. church by Rev. E. M. Aller. Burial in Brown's cemetery Bald Eagle township.

His brother Jonathan, who succeeded him to the leadership, renewed the Roman alliance and taking advantage of certain disputes about the Syrian throne rendered vacant by the death of Antiochus, acquired the dignity of High Priest. But Tryphon, the guardian of the young prince, Antiochus Theos fearing his influence, invited him to Ptolemais, and had him there treacherously executed.

Simon, the second brother, was elected by the Jewish commonwealth to assume the reins of national government, and formally recognized both by Demetrius (Tryphon's antagonist) and the Romans, as chief and ruler of the Jews, he completely re-established the independence of the Jewish nation.

The year after his succession (141 B. C.) was made the starting point of a new era. The almost absolute power in his hands he used with wise moderation. Justice and peace flourished in his days and "Judah prospered as of old."

From this history, several gentlemen met in London, Ontario, Canada, in 1878 and formed a society called the Knights of the Maccabees a fraternal and social organizations with ritualistic work founded on the traditions of the famous leader Judas Maccabeus and dramatized from from this history, the same being extremely pretty and dramatically real and interesting. It was made semi-military on account of the Maccabees being the best military men of their time.

The order has also a military rank connected with it that is of much interest to the majority of the members particularly the younger ones. The order started out to care for the widows and orphans, and grew fast but on account of mismanagement in the beginning and the large growth met with some dissensions in the ranks. In Jan. 1881 the representative of the factions met in Port Huron, Mich., the present home of the Supreme Camp, and after a two days session came together drafted new by laws and plans which same exist with many modifications today in addition a reorganization in Sept. 1882. The general head is called the Supreme Tent; and State organizations, when a state has over one thousand members, are formed and called Great Campe.

The order has steadily grown from the reorganization in Michigan until now it has 400,900 members. They do not write in the Southern states, prohibit hazardous occupations as well as all engaged in manufacture or sale of spirituous liquor, and are doing a world of good in protecting the widows and orphans by their low rate life insurance as well as assisting the living members by their sick and accident benefit at the low cost of 50cts. per month.

The society has paid out over twenty-five millions in benefits. The beneficial ages are between the years of 18 and 57. There are over 5000 subordinate tents in U. S. and Canada. The Supreme Tent have a fine office building in Port Huron, Mich. D. P. Markey being Supreme Commander and L. E. Sisler Supreme Record Keeper, both in Port Huron; W. E. Blaney and J. S. Boyd both of Pittsburg, are respectively Great Commander and Great Record Keeper of the State.

DROWNDING ACCIDENT.

Frank Kaup of Boalsburg Lost His Life While Crossing Susquehanna River.

Frank Kaup, a well known resident of Boalsburg, this county, lost his life Saturday morning by drowning. He attempted to cross the Susquehanna river in a boat at a point near Watsontown, when the boat capsized and Kaup was carried down the stream and drowned. His body was recovered later in the day. The full details of the sad accident have not as yet been learned.

The unfortunate man was the son of George and Johanna Kaup of Boalsburg and was 41 years of age. He was in the employ of the White Deer Lumber Company. He leaves to survive him three sisters, one brother and his parents. Mrs. John Fisher of Bellefonte is a sister of Frank Kaup.

The remains were taken to his home in Boalsburg and the funeral will take place Tuesday morning.

Trolley Extension.

The charter recently issued by the state department extending the charter of the Lewisburg, Milton and Watsontown Passenger Railway Company so that the line may be extended to Lewisburg, was placed on record in the register's office at Sunbury last Thursday. This is the first step necessary to connect the two towns by trolley. It has always been a cherished hope of the promoters of the enterprise and the public shares with a strong desire to see it accomplished. Whether anything definite will be done this fall towards the extension of the line we are not prepared to say, but it is hardly likely.—Milton Standard.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Snow Shoe.

Mr. W. D. O'Brien attended church last Sunday.

Among the students who returned to school during the past week were: Tom Budinger, to Dickinson Prep School at Carlisle, James and Patrick Kelley to Villanova Prep and James Redding to the same school. Tom McLaughlin goes to Mt. St. Mary's and Robert Thompson and Leslie Gilliland go to Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport.

Found—a right humorous of the human body. Owner must prove property. Inquire of W. A. Sickel. (Understood only by the wise.)

The many friends of Robert Kech are glad to know that their worst fears have not been realized and that he is rapidly recovering from the effects of his recent fall.

Herbert Faus stopped off in this city Thursday night on his way to Syracuse University.

Sam Budinger is—well, you know how they usually describe it—all smiles and sitting 'em up to his friends. It's a girl.

Your correspondent had a very remarkable and thrilling experience on Thursday night of last week the principal facts of which he feels constrained to set before the public, although fully realizing that the truth of many of his statements may be doubted by those who have hitherto put implicit faith in his veracity. Here are the facts however:

It was 11 o'clock or thereabouts, in the evening when, as was perfectly natural, I found myself, together with six or eight other remnants of the old Hot Air gang, in Sickel's drug store discussing certain weighty matters pertaining to the general welfare of the community at large. As usual Doc Neff had the floor and was carefully unfolding a new plan of Archaeological research on Indian Grave Hill with a view to obtaining some fine skeletons of the aboriginal inhabitants of our beloved township, when he was suddenly interrupted by Crandall: "Listen!" said he and his trigger-finger was raised in a warning gesture. The scout's quick ear had evidently caught some sound that was lost on those of us who had been brought up for the most part in the settlement. For almost a minute there was perfect silence, then the back door softly opened and—look! a dark fiercely painted face is thrust in. We were all standing so close to the door that we could have whipped out our knives, had we been so armed, and scalped him with ease, but nobody stirred. The lamplight seemed to blind the savage at first and probably to this fact alone do we all owe our lives. Crandall was the first to recover his presence of mind. Quick as thought he seized an old revolver from the top of the safe, levelled it, and pulled the trigger. With a loud whoop the red-skin fell backward into the wareroom. Instantly the cry was taken up by hundreds of throats in the darkness without.

Now, indeed we realized to the full the gravity of our situation. Here we were surrounded by horde of enraged savages thirsting to revenge the death of their warrior. Evidently something must be done and that soon under these trying circumstances we of course could not act without a leader. The choice at once fell upon Crandall, his wide experience in Indian fighting in addition to his recent act of heroism influencing the selection.

Out of confusion immediately came something like order, a barrel of the Atlantic Refining Co's kerosene stood in the wareroom. "Dundy" Gilliland rolled this in quickly knocked in the head of the barrel and thoroughly saturated the floor in order to prevent the spread of fire should the savages seek to burn us out. The yelling without had suddenly ceased and an ominous silence prevailed. New deviltries were probably being hatched up.

Sickel advised that an attempt should be made to arbitrate and thus prevent more bloodshed, Accordingly Capt. Crandall appointed Sam Buddinger to act as envoy extraordinary and try to make overtures Sam had been in the army and it was hoped his soldierly bearing would make somewhat of an impression upon the enemy and no doubt inspire within them a very wholesome awe.

Our peace commissioner wasted no time but stepped boldly out the front door carrying a white handkerchief as a sign of his friendly mission. A few moments of suspense for those inside and it began to seem as though the red-skins were going to consent to a conference when suddenly a shot rang out and Sam staggered back through the doorway. We quickly sprang to his assistance but found him seemingly unhurt. Investigation revealed the curious fact that the ball which would otherwise have entered his heart had fortunately been defected by a nursing bottle which he had that evening bought for domestic use and placed in his inside pocket. The result was a very slight flesh wound made by the glancing bullet.

The besiegers now seemed emboldened believing no doubt that our members were diminished by one and pressed closer to the attack. Now and then a young brave, more daring than the rest went so far as to present his face to a window for an instant in order to reconnoitre our situation. Cap now advised that our only hope lay in being able to elude the savages in the darkness by stealing out one by one and seeking refuge in adjacent buildings or escaping to the mountains if possible. But here again providence intervened in our behalf for suddenly we heard a great scurrying without and our recent foes evidently beating a hasty retreat. We were puzzled for a moment. Kech was the first to divine the cause. It was simply this; a timely breeze had started Budinger's windmill with all the accompanying screech and clatter. So the untutored minds of the savages this had doubtless suggested nothing less than the rapid approach of a troop of cavalry followed by a brigade or two of heavy artillery and naturally they had quickly sought cover. This was our chance. "Now," said Crandall, everybody for himself and let the Indians take the hindmost" and was gone.

The rest of us were not long in following. I started out the back door but in my blind haste stumbled over something picking myself up I looked to see what I had fallen over. It was the dead Indian.

I turned and hurried on but I had struck my head in falling and my mind was so confused I hardly knew what I was doing. The next thing that I can remember I was in the school house—must have wondered up that way and crawled in a window. Sometime had surely elapsed too for when I crept to a window there were the red skins again. They had evidently discovered their mistake and here they were back in full force. They had built a fire and were executing a war dance. Their tones and gestures were those of exultation and I fell to wandering what it all meant when at a signal from their chief they ended their dance and a moment later two young braves came within the circle carrying something which they laid on the ground near the fire.

Ah! a captive! that was it.

He was quickly unbound and then made to stand up. Great Scott! It was Roll Shope. 'Poor Roll," I thought "they have saved you for the tortue," and there he was, smiling as though it was a pot-full of corn instead of his body that was to be roasted. He didn't realize what his fate would be.

Presently one young man of the tribe playfully hurled a tomahawk at him. The blade struck him on the breast with a bang and fell harmlessly at his feet. Then I saw and understood for Roll was dressed in a suit of Thompson & Watson's galvanized overalls and could laugh his tormentors to scorn. (As for his head it was amply protected by his thick locks of hair and his face by a three weeks growth of beard.)

After several ineffectual attempts to injure him in this way they became enraged and turned to something else. It was evident from their preparations that they were going to resort to fire. But another interruption came. Seeing all eyes suddenly turned toward the Bellefonte pike I looked and there came Captain Crandall galloping to the rescue with a body of the State Constabulary. It is needless to say the savages vanished as quickly as they had appeared.

Up to this time I had been a staunch supporter of Lew Emery for Governor but now, while I watched the last Indian as he was swallowed up in the darkness, the thought struck me: how much would my life be worth at this minute had it not been for those state constables? No, sir, I shall vote for the constables!

Immediately after having made this important decision your correspondent awoke.

Moshannon.

Focht Was Nominated.

Ex-Senator B. K. Focht, of Lewisburg, was nominated for congress by the republican conference of the Seventeenth district on the twenty-ninth ballot at a meeting at Harrisburg Wednesday. Focht was the choice of Congressman Thaddeus M. Mahon, of Chambersburg, who has represented the district for the past fourteen years and declined to be a candidate for the nomination. On the final ballot the conferees of Franklin, Juniata, Union and Snyder counties voted for Focht, Perry, Huntingdon, and Fulton for James M. Barnett, of Bloomfield, and Mifflin for H. J. Culbertson, of Lewistown. Dr. W. H. Boggs was Huntingdon county's candidate.

QUIGLEY FOR SENATOR

Received the Nomination at the Philipsburg Conference Saturday.

The Senatorial Conference dead-lock in the Thirty-fourth district—Centre and Clearfield counties—was broken Saturday at Philipsburg by the nomination of Henry C. Quigley of Bellefonte. The State committee sent two additional conferees to the meeting Saturday, Harry Keller of Bellefonte, and T. L. Snyder of Clearfied. The first ballot was four for Quigley and four for Joseph Alexander of Clearfield. They then discussed the matter for a half an hour when another ballot was taken and Quigley was the unaminous choice.

HENRY C. QUIGLEY, Esq.

Republican Nominee for State Senator from the 34th. Senatorial Dist.

Quigley will at once tender his resignation as County Chairman and will probably be succeeded by Harry Keller Esq.

The Democratic conference is tied up, and the State Executive Committee will hear the case at Harrisburg next Tuesday and decide whether W. C. Heinle, of Centre, or George M. Dimling, of Clearfiel should be named.

George Fasig's Death the Result of an Accident.

In our last issue we stated that George Fasig's death was due to heart disease, but we later learned that it was due to an accident. The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin gives the following particulars:

George E. Fasig, died Wednesday of concussion of the brain, resulting from injuries received by falling from a trolley car

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Fasig boarded an East End trolley car, and as the car was passing up the Grampian grade his hat blew off.

Without waiting for the car to stop Mr. Fasig stepped off and was thrown violently to the ground. He was assisted into the car and taken to his home.

It was noticed that he had difficulty in speaking and seemed affected by the fall, and Dr. Senn was summoned. In spite of medical attendance he continued to sink until about three o'clock Wednesday morning when he passed away.

The remains of George Fasic, who died in Williamsport on Wednesday morning, were brought to Bellefonte Friday over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and taken to the United Brethren church where the funeral services were held at ten o'clock.

The services were conducted by Rev. A. Davidson and were very appropriate and impressive. Out of respect to the memory who was an enthusiastic fireman, both the Logan and Undine Fire Companies attended in a body in full uniform.

The pall-bearers were R. A. Beck, W. C. Cassidy, Harry Gehret, J. M. Cunningham, John McGinley and Samuel Guisewhite.

The interment was made in the Union cemetery.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers were recorded during the past week by Recorder John C. Rowe.

The Bucktail Reunion.

Driftwood, Pa., September 17th.—The twentieth annual Reunion of the famous Bucktail regiment was held at this place on Friday and Saturday of last week, and thirty of its survivors and more than one hundred honorary members gathered to celebrate the occasion. The banquet and camp fire were held Friday evening, and the business meeting on Saturdy morning, when the following officers were elected:

President—N. Y. Jones of Williamsport, Pa.

Vice President—John H. Coulter of Reedsville, Pa.

Treasurer—E. A. Irvin of Curwensville, Pa.

Secretary—W. H. Rauch of Philadelphia, Pa.

Asst. Secretary—Mrs. W. H. Rauch of Philadelphia, Pa.

Chaplain—Rev. L. M. Gardner of York Springs, Pa.

The choice of a meeting place for next year was left to the discretion of the executive committee.

Resolutions were presented and adopted thanking the people of Driftwood for their hearty welcome and kindness, and congratulating the people of the Twenty-first Congressional District on the selection of Capt. Chas. F. Barclay, a Bucktail soldier, as their candidate for Congress.

The beautiful memorial services of the association were held in Oak Hill cemetery Saturday noon, this bringing to a close one of the most successful and enjoyable reunions in the history of the Association.

Saxton Furnace Sold.

The property of the Saxton Furnace company was sold at auction here last Thursday by William H. Staake, trustee in bankruptcy, for $213,735. the purchaser being Henry P. Brown, an attorney of Philadelphia. Mr. Brown would not disclose the names of those for whom he is acting. He is a director of the Easton Iron and Steel company, of Pottsville, of which Veryl Preston, of New York is president. The Saxton Furnace property is located along the lines of the Huntingdon and Broad Top railroad, which owned $52,000 worth of stock in the furnace company. The Saxton Furnace company failed in December, 1903, owing the railroad $50,000 for freight charges.

Senatorial Conferees of Both Parties Dead-locked

The Republican and Democratic senatorial conferences are still dead-locked in this district. Both holding sessions at Philipsburg Tuesday.

Quigley and Alexander were at the Republican conference, but could not come together on a nomination, and the conference adjourned until Saturday. Alexander still favors the matter to the State Committee, but to this Quigley is opposed.

With the Democrats the question is just as far from being settled, as neither Heinle, of Centre, nor Dimeling, of Clearfield, is willing to give in. They held three sessions Tuesday. It is likely they will refer the making of a nomination to the Democratic State Committee.

Correction.

The statement in our issue of 13th inst regarding the Monument, needs the following correction.

The grand jury has recommended the appropriation by the County Commissioners of an additional sum of five thousand dollars toward the completion of payment for the monument, assuming that this sum will be so applied. There will remain items of cost and expense, not included in the contract, as yet unsettled amounting to five or six hundred dollars, toward the payment of which there is in the treasury one hundred and fifty ($150) dollars. This deficiency of $450 we hope will be met by some subscription not yet paid, and others which we trust will be made.

TO REPUBLICANS:

We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory.

For Thin, Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the strongest Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do its best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills while taking the Sarsaparilla. The liver will quickly respond, and so will the bowels.

Mr. Roosevelt, In Letter to Cuban Minister, Declares Intervention Will Only Come As Last Resort—Rushing Warships to Island.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.—After a protracted conference with Secretary of War Taft, Acting Secretary of State Bacon and Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte, President Roosevelt addressed an important communication to Cuba, and arranged to send Secretary Taft and Bacon to that island on Sunday to make a thorough investigation of conditions there and lend their influence to restore peace.

The communication is addressed to the Cuban minister to the United States, Senor Quesada. It is an impassioned plea to Cuba to realize her responsibility as a self-governing republic and to restore peace in the island. Her attention is called in no uncertain language to the responsibility which the United States bears to the island and to the certainty that such responsibility will necessarily be exercised should peace not be preserved.

Secretary Taft and Bacon will leave for Cuba Sunday. They will go by rail to Key West, Florida, and from there the journey to Havana will be completed on a naval vessel, probably the cruiser DesMoines.

The president's letter in full is as follows:

The President's Letter.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 14.

My Dear Senor Quesada—In this crisis in the affairs of the Republic of Cuba I write you not merely because you are the minister of Cuba accredited to this government, but because you and I were intimately drawn together at the time when the United States intervened in the affairs of Cuba with the result of making her an independent nation. You know how sincere my affection and admiration and regard for Cuba are. You know that I never have done and never shall do anything in reference to Cuba save with such sincere regard for her welfare. You also know the pride I felt because it came to me as president to withdraw the American troops from the island of Cuba and officially to proclaim her independence and to wish her God speed in her career as a free republic. I desire now through you to say a word of solemn warning to your people, whose earnest well wisher I am. For seven years Cuba has been in a condition of profound peace and of steadily growing prosperity. For four years this peace and prosperity have obtained under her own independent government. Her peace, prosperity and independence are now menaced, for of all possible evils that can befall Cuba the worst is the evil of anarchy into which civil war and revolutionary disturbances will assuredly throw her. Whoever is responsible for armed revolution and outrage, whoever is responible in any way for the condition of affairs that now obtains, is an enemy of Cuba, and doubly heavy is the responsibility of the men who, affecting to be the especial champion of Cuban independence, takes any step which will jeopardize that independence. For there is just one way in which Cuban independence can be secured and that is for the Cuban people to show their ability to continue in their path of peaceful and orderly progress. This nation asks nothing of Cuba save that it shall continue to develop as it has developed during the past seven years, that it shall know and practice the orderly liberty which will assuredly bring an ever-increasing measure of peace and prosperity to the beautiful Queen of the Antilles. Our intervention in Cuban affairs will only come if Cuba herself shows that she has fallen into the insurrectionary habit, that she lacks the self-restraint necessary to peaceful self-government and that her contending factions have plunged the country into anarchy.

I solemnly adjure all Cuban patriots to band together to sink all differenes and personal ambitions and to remember that the only way that they can preserve the independence of the republic is to prevent the necessity of outside interference by rescuing it from the anarchy of civil war. I earnestly hope that this word of adjuration of mine, given in the name of the American people, the staunchest friends and well-wishers of Cuba that there are in all the world, will be taken as it is meant, will be seriously considered and will be acted upon and if so acted upon Cuba's permanent independence, her permanent success as a republic, are assured.

Under the treaty with the U. S. government I as president of the United States have duty in this matter which I cannot shirk. The third article of that treaty explicitly confers upon the United States the right to intervene for the maintenance in Cuba of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty. The treaty conferring this right is the supreme law of the land and furnishes me with the right and the means of fulfilling the obligation that I am under to protect American interests. The information at hand shows that the social bonds throughout the island have been so relaxed that life, property and individual liberty are no longer safe. I have received authentic information of injury to and destruction of American property. It is in my judgment imperative for the sake of Cuba that there shall be an immediate cessation of hostilities and some arrangement which will secure the permanent pacification of the island.

I am sending to Havana the secretary of war Mr. Taft and the assistant secretary of state, Mr. Bacon, as the special representatives of this government who will render such aid as is possible toward these ends. I had hoped that Mr Root, the secretary of state, could have stopped in Havana on his return from South America, but the seeming imminence of the crisis forbids further delay.

Through you I desire in this way to communicate with the Cuban government and with the Cuban people, and accordingly I am sending you a copy of this letter to be presented to President Palma and have also directed its immediate publication. Sincerely yours.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Senor Don Gonzale de Quesada,
The Cuban Minister.

Warships to Surround Cuba.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Having done everything in the way of preparation for eventualities in Cuba which prudence and experience could suggest, the officials in Washington who are temporarily acting as heads of the military [illegible] nothing more than await developments and watch the execution of the plans they had already formed.

Thus it appears that within a short time an effective fleet of eight naval vessels will surround the island of Cuba, and they will be well manned by marine continents, making good a deficiency in the present equipment of the Denver. In addition to the Denver now at Havana, the DesMoines is already crossing the Florida straits from Key West for that port; the Marietta is probably at Cienfuegos, though interrupted telegraph lines make it difficult for her to report; the Dixie, with 300 marines aboard, is making all haste from Guantanamo for the Cuban capital, while in home ports the Tacoma is about to sail for Cuba from Norfolk, to be followed by the Cleveland and the Newark at the same port, and the Minneapolis at League Island is taking on stores with all speed under preparatory orders and will be ready to sail when the starting signal comes from Washington. Meanwhile the marine corps is in perfect readiness, and expects to be able to place 2000 marines aboard ship at a few hours' notice, most of the men being now at League Island, New York and Norfolk.

CANNON SCORES REFORMERS

Compares Them to Braying Mules and Pays Respects to Bryan.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Speaker Cannon made a short speech before the Republican state committee, which met here. Mr. Cannon was on his way to his home at Danville, Ill., from Michigan.

The reform forces were classified by him as "the kickers," and he gave them additional cause to charge him with disrespect for their efforts by comparing them to a celebrated mule, concerning which it was never known whether he was braying because he was kicking or kicking because he was braying."

Furthermore, he said, that inasmuch as their object seemed to be the immediate reformation of the entire world, they were hopelessly beyond argument, and therefore the best course for a sensible man to pursue with regard to them was to leave them alone."

"Some persons are a great deal bothered about what's going to happen in 1908," continued the speaker. "Mr. Bryan is bothered. Now, Mr. Bryan had been traveling, and we supposed he had been informing himself. We expected that he'd come back home as a man who had gained experience and knowledge from seeing different men and countries, but he no sooner makes a speech than we find him full of the same old heterodox notions and ideas.

"Now, we've got better things to do than to bother about what's going to happen two years from now. Those things will take care of themselves when the time comes. What the Republican party has to do is to take care of the things that are up now, and that's what it is doing."

ROBBED OF $1245

New York Manufacturer Held Up In Hallway of Factory.

New York, Sept. 15.—Louis Schmeman, a clothing manufacturer, was attacked by three men in a hallway leading to his establishment in a Chrystie street building and robbed of a satchel containing $1245, with which sum he intended to pay his employes. James Arro and Tony Bautch, former employes of Schmeman, were arrested and are charged with being two of the trio. The man who grabbed the satchel managed to escape.

Broke World's Swimming Record.

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—C. M. Daniels, of the New York Athletic Club, lowered the world's swimming record for 220 yards at Laughlins Lake, where the second day's program of the national swimming championships was decided. The New Yorker set the mark at 2.42 4-5, breaking his own record by 1 3-5 seconds.

Newspapers Will Use Reform Spelling

Indianapolis, Sept. 17.—The Indianapolis, the Terre Haute and the Muncie Star, newspapers, announce that the Star in the three cities will put into effect Tuesday morning in its news and editorial columns the spelling of 189 of the 300 words recommended by the Carnegie spelling board as indorsed by President Roosevelt. In the use of the remaining 111 words the Star will adhere to the old forms for the present.

CROWD AT UNVEILING

Almost a Panic at Columbus, O., to See Mrs. Roosevelt.

HAD TO POSTPONE EXERCISES

Almost a Stampede to See President's Daughter, and She Unveiled McKinley Statue While People Were Struggling For Their Lives.

Columbus, O., Sept. 15.—With panic threatening a crowd of 50,000 persons surging about a stand erected in the capitol grounds, frantic to secure a glimpse of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the president's daughter, the oratorical exercises arranged for the unveiling of a statue of William McKinley were suddenly postponed until night, after the statue of the martyred president had been, hurriedly unveiled by Mrs. Longworth. The speeches of the occasion were delivered in Memorial hall.

The crowd was so large and cramped that it got beyond control, and the shrieking of women and children, who were caught in the crush, rapidly worked the crowd into a frenzy. Many women fainted, and were carried out of the crowd by the police. Mrs. Eliza Louisa Muhn and a negress were trampled upon and had to be removed in an ambulance. Both will recover.

Throughout the exciting scenes Mrs. Longworth remained cool and self-possessed, but afterwards she said that it was the worst crush she had ever seen.

The McKinley monument stands at the west entrance to the grounds, facing the street, and the crowd was packed into this space between the speakers' stand and the monument.

As a band was playing an overture, women in the crowd next to the speakers' stand began to scream and cry for help on account of the crush. Several women fainted and were carried to the stand. Rev. Washington Gladden rose to deliver the invocation, but he spoke only a few sentences when the roar of voices forced him to stop. Governor Harris then attempted to quiet the crowd.

"Keep back," he shouted; "you are crushing the people in front to death."

The governor's voice could not be heard 20 feet away on account of the din. The commotion then became so alarming that those on the stand asked Mrs. Longworth to come forward in the hope that a glimpse of her might satisfy the crowd. She came to the front of the stand and the crush became almost a stampede. It was then decided to unveil the statue at once. Mrs. Longworth then pulled a ribbon, which drew aside the flags covering the statue. A man hoisted on others' shoulders grasped the ribbons and they were quickly torn into fragments by relic hunters.

The crush was stopped for a few minutes, but as Mrs. Longworth sat down it was renewed, and she again went to the front of the platform and bowed to the throng. The committee on arrangements, having decided to defer the addresses until evening, allowed Mrs. Longworth to retire from the platform, and announced the change of program. Persons struggling for their lives in the crowd around the stand cheered this announcement, but a storm of hisses came from people on the outskirts of the crowd, who did not understand the situation. The crowd then dispersed.

The program of exercises was carried out at Memorial Hall. The immense hall was filled with people. Governor Harris presided. The speakers were William R. Day, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States; John W. Daniels, United States senator from Virginia; General Joseph McKay, of Brooklyn, N. Y., national commander-in-chief of the G. A. R.

Mrs. McKinley was unable to attend the dedicatory exercises, but she was represented by her niece, Mrs. Ida McKinley Day.

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER THROWN

Ethel Roosevelt Not Injured By Fall From Carriage.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 15.—While driving from Sagamore Hill to Oyster Bay, Miss Ethel Roosevelt, daughter of the president, was thrown out of her buggy, her horse becoming frightened at an automobile.

The accident occurred near the residence of P. L. Fearn, where Miss Ethel stopped for a few moments to regain her composure. She was not hurt, and insisted on having her horse harnessed to another buggy and on driving back to Sagamore Hill.

Councilman Acquitted of Fraud.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 15.—Select Councilmen W. A. Witman and Howard Jacobs, charged by the Taxpayers' League with defrauding the city in the weighing of spalls and sand, were asquitted.

Killed Wife In Presence of Child.

New York, Sept. 15.—During a quarrel, Michael Laesko shot and instantly killed his wife Mary in the presence of his brother-in-law, John Kutch, and his own 3-year-old daughter, in the Laesko's rooms in a tenement in East 74th street. He then tried to kill Kutch, it is alleged, but after a fierce struggle between the two men he was beaten insensible with his own revolver by Kutch. Mrs. Laesko had left her husband recently because of their differences, and Laesko kidnapped his little daughter. The shooting followed the mother's demands that the child be returned to her. Laesko was arrested.

GENERAL CORBIN RETIRED

Quits the Army After Continuous Service Since 1862.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Lieutenant General Henry C. Corbin has retired, having reached the age of 64 years. General Corbin has had a long military career, having entered the volunteer service in the civil war in 1862 as a second lieutenant in an Ohio regiment and was mustered out as colonel of a regiment in 1866. He entered the regular service as a second lieutenant when the army was reorganized in 1866 and remained in the infantry until 1880, when he was appointed to the adjutant general's department. He became adjutant general in 1889 just before the Spanish war, and it was during that war he made a reputation which resulted in his being made a major general while still being adjutant general.

MAJOR GENERAL CORBIN.

February last General Corbin succeeded General Bates as lieutenant general of the army, but contrary to the practice under the law which created the general staff he was not made chief of staff. In fact it was at his suggestion that a younger man with long service before him should be assigned to that position, so that the changes would not be frequent and a policy could be carried out without interruption by frequent changes.

COPPERPLATE ENGRAVING.

The Art Was Discovered Through the Merest Accident.

Every one has noticed on his visiting card the extremely delicate lines of his name, and almost every one knows that they are produced by printing from an engraved copperplate. Like many other things of use and beauty, this art of copperplate engraving was discovered through the merest accident by the goldsmiths of Florence in the fifteenth century. It is a historical fact, however, that one day an engraver on gold, wishing to take a proof of his work, made the usual sulphur cast and then filled up the lines with lampblack, thus enabling him to see exactly how his work looked. While occupied in doing this it occurred to him that possibly the same results could be obtained by filling up the original engraving with lampblack instead of making an impression of it and filling up that. Struck with the idea, he put it into practical use, and with a little damp paper succeeded in getting a fair impression from the engraving.

The discovery was communicated to other workers in the art, and they hailed it with joy, as it saved all the arduous trouble of making sulphur casts, but they never saw the full value of the discovery, and consequently the art of plate engraving lay for almost a century before its true import was discovered and brought out in all its great and beautiful results. Today collectors of plate engravings rave over the crude results of earlier times and search the world for examples of these early masters to add to their collections. Many of these collections have been presented to museums, where they may be seen and appreciated by the people.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

FAIRE'S BODY IN RIVER

Remains of Henry Wampole Found Near Weehawken, N. J.

New York, Sept. 15.—The body of Henry K. Wampole, the millionaire chemist, of Philadelphia, was found in the North river opposite Weehawken, N. J. The body bore the appearance of having been in the water several days, and was considerably disfigured. There were several letters, however, in the pockets of the clothing directed to Mr. Wampole in Philadelphia.

It is not known whether or not Mr. Wampole met death accidentally, but he is believed to have escaped from attendants who were seeking to place him in an asylum in New York, his health having given way under the strain of overwork and worriment.

FARMER CRUSHED TO DEATH

Fell to Ground and Frightened Horses Dragged Land Roller Over Him.

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 15. — James Miller, a farmer, aged 40 years, of Cross Roads, Northampton county, was killed in a peculiar maner. While operating a land roller in a newly ploughed field, he went forward on the tongue of the machine to disentangle a fly net on one of the horses. One of the animals started kicking, which caused Miller to fall to the ground. The horses, becoming frightened, dragged the heavy roller over him, crushing him to death.

TWELVE TRACKMEN DROWNED

Hand Car Ran Into River Through Open Draw Bridge at Toledo, O.

Toledo, O., Sept. 15.—Running without permission a hand car loaded with 12 trackmen of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railway ran off an open draw over the Maumee river and every one on the car was drowned. Owing to the fact that the men took the car from a point some miles from Toledo, where work is being done, identification of the men has not been learned.

Negro Family Ran Amuck.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 15.—Crazed by religion four well to do negroes, Reed Anderson, his daughter and two sons, ran amuck in a remote section of Anderson county, S. C., attacked and stoned several white persons and destroyed property. They finally barricaded themselves in their home and were not captured until Reed Anderson was killed. The surviviors were lodged in jail.

Insane Mother's Crime.

New York, Sept. 15.—Mrs. Victor Antony, 35 years of age, cut the throat of her 3-year-old daughter in her home in Jersey City. Going to the roof she jumped to the street, three stories below. The child is dead and the mother is dying. She was insane.

Robbed Woman of $51,790.

New York, Sept. —Charged with robbing Mrs. Emily L. Heine, of Cincinanti, of $51,790 by means of a fraudulent sale of costly rugs and paintings, two Austrians were arrested in this city on the eve of their intended sailing for Europe. The prisoners gave their names as Frank Kiss, a rug dealer, and Samuel Rosenfield, a commission broker. The arrests were made on warrants issued by a justice of the peace in Cincinanti on August 28. According to the complaint, $4k,000 of the money that the prisoners are alleged to have stolen from Mrs. Heine was on the false sale to her of Oriental rugs owned by the firm of Vangassbeck & Arkel, and of paintings owned by Knedler & Co., both of New York.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

There Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong And Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part o this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

W. R. Camp, of the firm of Kirk-Camp Furniture Co., Logan Ave. and 14th St., Tyrone, Pa., says: "Experience has taught me that Doan's Kidney Pills is an excellent remedy and one that strictly fulfills its promises. In the fall of 1897 I gave for publication in our local papers a statement covering my experience with this remedy and recommending it to others, and now in the month of June, 1904, I just as enthusiastically recommend it as I did at that time. Doan's kidney pills completely relieved me of an aching in the small of my back and lameness through the loins due to kidney trouble. We always keep this preparation in the house for use in case of need, and it has never failed to give splendid satisfaction. I heartily endorse it.

POLICE STILL AT SEA

Appear to be Baffled by Murder of Mrs. Law in Philadelphia.

ARE RUNNING DOWN CLUES

Miss Kelly, the Landlady, Her Mother and Harry Somers Are Detained While the Investigation Is Under Way.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—The police seem to be no nearer a solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Maurice K. Lewis, who was mysteriously slain last Monday in the apartment house kept by Charlotte Kelly, than they were on the day of the murder. While Superintendent of Police Taylor expressed himself as satisfied that Miss Kelly had no knowledge of the crime, it is evident that she is still under strict surveillance. Superintendent Taylor also admitted that Harry Somers, a boarder at Miss Kelly's house, who has been "detained" by the police, is virtually a prisoner. The authorities have frequently reiterated the statement that, while Somers remained at the central police station, he was not under arrest. It has been known, however, that he was not permitted to leave the city hall unescorted.

Superintendent Taylor and the detective department are now investigating the story told by Charles Quigley, a motorman employed by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company. Quigley made the acquaintance of Somers while the latter was employed on the trolley cars. He declares that two weeks before Mrs. Lewis was Murdered Somers told him that he (Somers) was infatuated with a woman who resided in Miss Kelly's house. "Somers told me," said Quigley, "that he would get this woman or kill her." Quigley was summoned by Superintendent Taylor and questioned. The result of his examination is not known.

John K. Rigler, a gas meter inspector, was examined by the police. He made the statement that when he visited Miss Kelly's house last Monday at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon there was another woman in the house besides Mrs. Lewis. This woman, he declared, was Miss Kelly's mother, Mrs. Robinson. Miss Kelly has told the authorities that she and her mother were visiting and shopping from 2 o'clock on Monday morning until 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon.

MRS. LEWIS' BODY HOME.

Woman Murdered In Philadelphia Taken to Allegheny.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 15.—Maurice K. Lewis, husband of the Allegheny woman who was murdered Monday in a Philadelphia boarding house, arrived in the city with the body of the dead woman. Lewis was accompanied by Detectives Miller and Simpson, of the Philadelphia force, who are here to investigate Mrs. Lewis' relations with former admirers when she lived at her father's home in Allegheny. Karl Ness, the father of Mrs. Lewis, said that Lewis employed two private detectives and sent them to Philadelphia.

The body of Mrs. Lewis will be interred in the Lutheran Church cemetery in Allegheny. The arrival of her daughter's body seems to give Mrs. Ness more consolation than anything that has hapened since the killing.

Two former admirers of Mrs. Lewis are being sought by the detectives. One of them, shortly after her marriage, when the family refused to tell her whereabouts, said he would find her if it took years. The other man seemed to be made almost a mental wreck when he lost his sweetheart.

It is learned that the Philadelphia detectives have been working in conjunction with the detective forces of Pittsburg and Allegheny and have followed up clues, which one of the Pittsburg officers says will probably result in the arrest of the man who murdered Mrs. Lewis. No name nor intimation of the man's identity will be made public.

Murdered As He Slept.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 15.—Adam Publow, a Slav, was murdered at McCalls Ferry, in the lower part of this county, by another foreigner, also believed to be a Slav, who escaped. Publow was employed on the great dam that is being erected in the Susquehanna at McCalls Ferry. The foreign laborers, 1000 in number, have a camp called "Little Italy on the banks of the river. Publow was asleep in one of the shanties when attacked. Five bullets were fired into him.

Police Chief Kills Negro.

Huntingdon, Pa., Sept. 15.—Chief of Police Cassidy, of Mt. Union, shot and instantly killed Edgar Smith, colored, of this place, in Mt. Union. Smith was charged with threatening the life of a citizen, and when the officer attempted to arrest him Smith drew a revolver, but before he could use it Officer Cassidy shot him. The coroner's jury exonerated Cassidy.

Arrested For Violating 8 Hour Law.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 15.—United States Commissioner George E. Bowden caused the arrest of John Monk, a contractor employed in government works at Fort Monroe, for violating the eight hour law. He is accused of working men nine hours a day on government work. He will be tried before Commissioner Bowden next Tuesday. Other arrests on the charge of violating the eight hour law are expected.

CONGRESS BACKS UP PALMA

Extra Session Grants Him Full Power to Carry On War.

Havana, Sept. 15.—The extra session of congress called by President Palma completed at one sitting the business for which it was summoned, namely, the granting to President Palma of the fullest powers not already constitutionally possessed by the executive for carrying on the war, including the right to appropriate any public funds for war purposes; revoking appropriations voted at the preceding session of congress in order to permit the diversion of the moneys involved to prosecution of the war, and authorizing increases of the rural guards to 10,000 and the artillery to 2000 men. This triples the former force of rural guards and doubles the artillery. These measures, which were combined in one blanket bill, were passed by party votes, the Liberals and Independents refraining from voting and the Liberal Nationalists voting with the Moderates.

President Palma submitted a brief message, principally devoted to deploring the conduct of the opposition, whom he charged with the responsibility of causing the rebellion. The president regretted that the first extra session of congress should have been necessitated by a disturbance of public order, and said nobody would have expected that four years after the inauguration of the republic it would have been in the midst of a rebellion threatening the stability of the government, causing the sincerity of Cuban professions to be distrusted by the world and endangering the independence and sovereignty which had been purchased so dearly with the blood of thousands of Cubans after long years of cruel sacrifices. Who, asked the president, would have supposed that with the prosperity of the country and the well-being of the people so advancing, with millions in the treasury after paying $19,000,000 to the army of liberation and investing $11,000,000 in public improvements, and with such splendid credit abroad, there would be Cubans who would conspire to change the constitutional order by placing armed force, violence and anarchy before law, order and peace, to the country's shame and sorrow?

Another feature of the day was the return on board the American protected cruser Denver of the bluejackets who were landed from that vessel Thursday evening on the request of President Palma, who represented that he could not guarantee the protection of American interests. This was in view of the fact that the landing of the bluejackets had not met with the approval of the Washington government, which is believed here to have regarded the step as open to the construction of intervention. The events also indicated that the insurgents in Havana province regarded the landing of American sailors as constituting intervention, and they signified their readiness on that account to quit the field. Nothing resulted from their offers to surrender.

Reports of the capture of Cienfuegos are persistent, but the absence of telegraphic communication makes it impossible to verify the rumors.

General Rodriguez has taken personal command of 700 rural guards and artillerymen, who, in conjunction with 300 volunteers and cavalry, will proceed against the revolutionists concentrated outside Havana.

Twenty-seven militiamen were surprised and captured at Wajay, in the outskirts of Havana, by revolutionists belonging to the band of General Castillo.

Live Stock Drowned In Cloudburst.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 14. — A cloudburst broke over the Wyomissing valley and a regular flood rushed through the borough of Mohnsville. Live stock was drowned, truck patches ruined and small buildings and bridges were washed away. Trolley cars in that vicinity were held up for hours.

Appointed by Governor Stokes.

For the Stomach Heart and Kidneys

Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a Cause Cure—not a Symptom Cure.

It is a common mistake to take artificial digesters for stomach troubles—or heart stimulants for weak heart—or so-called kidney remedies for diseased kidneys. These organs do not act separately or of their own accord—they have no control over themselves—and not once in 500 times is the sickness the fault of the organ. It is the fault of the nerves which control the organs and only through these nerves can stomach, kidney or heart disorders be cured. Dr. Shoop, of Racine, Wisconsin, learned early in his medical experience that these inside nerves were the power nerves—that through them only was it possible to cure digestion, heartburn, belching, insomnia, backache, heart weakness, Bright's disease and other affections of the kidneys. For all of these ailments are not separate sicknesses as such. They are not to be treated merely symptoms of inside nerve weakness, and when the nerves are restored the symptoms and the sickness disappear. The remedy which Dr. Shoop prescribed these ailing nerves is known as Dr. Shoop Restorative. It relieves the pain and distress of kidney, stomach and heart troubles quicker even than these medicines designed simply to give temporary relief. Dr. Shoop's Restorative (Tablets or Liquid) can now be had of druggists everywhere. For sale and recommended by

SERIOUS AFFAIR AT WATSONTOWN.

A Thirteen Year Old Boy Perhaps Fatally Injured.

Joseph Mull, Jr., aged 13 years, son of Joseph Mull, a machinest employed by the McDowell company at Watsontown, was seriously injured, perhaps fatally, by being struck on the head with a stone thrown at him by Olney Ulrich, aged 19 years and a son of Joseph Ulrich.

The boys were playing with some companions near Fifth and Main streets at about 9 o'clock Monday evening when the Ulrich boy, who it is said picked a quarrel with the younger boy, who tried to run home, threw a large stone at young Mull and struck him on the side of the head, just back of his left ear. He fell heavily to the ground and Ulrich ran away, the other boys assisting young Mull to the office of Dr. Derr.

He dressed the wound, which appeared to be only a deep, sharp-edged gash, and sent him home. Although his companions insisted that they should go with him, he would not allow it and went alone.

His parents were out at the time, but when they returned at 10 o'clock he was found by his mother in an unconscious condition, in which he remained all night, suffering severe convulsions very frequently. Dr. Derr and Dr. Marsh remained with the boy all night, and yesterday there was but slight if any improvement, and his condition is critical indeed.

Young Ulrich is under surveilance, and the result of Mull's injuries is awaited with great interest

When a horse picks up a nail in his foot what does the driver do? Does he whip the limping, lagging animal and force him along? Not unless he wants to ruin the horse. At the first sign of lameness he jumpes down examines the foot and carefully removes the cause of the lameness. What is called "weak stomach" is like the lameness of the horse, only to be cured by removing the cause of the trouble. If you stimulate the stomach with "whisky medicines" you keep it going, but every day the condition is growing worse. A few doses sometimes of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will put the disordered stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition in perfect condition. Ninety-eight times in every hundred "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure the worst ailments originating in diseases of the stomach. It always helps. It almost always cures To cure constipation use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets They're sure.

Strengthen Your Back.

Of all muscles of the body, those of the back are, perhaps, the most important. In almost all of our movements, from the simplest to the most complicated, these muscles are used. Walking, standing, bending, going upstairs, lifting a chair, boarding a car and in a hundred other everyday acts the muscles of the back are brought into action. How shall we best develop these muscles and keep them in good condition is the question.

I believe that the easiest and best way to accomplish this is by a few minutes' regular daily exercise, and the following movements are, to my mind, excellent for the purpose: Raise and lower the weight slowly and rhythmically on the toes. This will not only develop the muscles of the back, but those of the calf of the leg as well. It makes the ankles flexible and brings the body into poise.

It is well when practicing this exercise to keep the eyes fixed on some point straight ahead. Now, seat yourself easily in a low chair, placing the feet upon a hassock or footstool. Exhale the breath, and as you do so, lean forward, stretching the hands toward the toes. Hold the position for twenty to thirty seconds.

This exercise is peculiarly valuable for the correction of a hollow back, and will often relieve a severe backache. Let any one, for instance, after several hours of hard work, writing, sewing, etc., try the above exercise, and she will soon discover that it is a perfect cure for discomfort in the region of the back.

A Husband's Sad Plight.

Lee Kauffman, the husband of the young woman who was recently drowned in a spring at Elysburg, Northumberland county, has gone violently insane. He continually threatens self destruction and his condition is so critical that it is feared he will not live many days. Immediately after his wife's death he began to grieve. His loud lamentations were almost continuous. He refused to eat and said he wanted to be lowered into the grave with his wife on Tuesday. The nervous strain was too much for him and dementia has now set in and his mind wanders pitifully. If anything happens to excite him it takes the combined efforts of three men to hold him in bed. Two attendants from the Danville hospital are in there. The doctors give slight hopes for his recovery. Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman were both graduates of the bloomsburg Normal school, and each had taken a position to teach in the public schools this winter.

They spent the night and Sunday morning at the Brockerhoff house, leaving Sunday afternoon for New York city.

—It is said that the Libary of Congress has been styled "A vision in polished stone." In the dignity of its proportions and design, in the richness and harmony of adornment, in the perfect adaptation to the purpose for which it is intended, it stands today as America's highest architectural achievement. The legend of Mr. Vedder's mosaic of Minerva reads: Minerva was at her best when she builded this monument, more enduring than bronze." The architects, painters and sculptors are all American citizens and it may well be an occasion of patriotic pride, that in conception, design and execution the building is a product of American talent, art and work manship, interior and exterior views chosen with the most beautiful coloring. Petriken Hall Thursday evening September 13th. Admission 25c.

—W. Harrison Walker, Esq., Treasurer of the Bellefonte hospital has just received a warrant from the Auditor General for the appropriation due the hospital to September 1st. PROF. PATTON'S ADDRESS.

The Prohibition Candidate for Lieut. Governor in Bellefonte.

Prof. H. D. Patton, of Lancaster Prohibition candidate for Lieut-Governor was in Bellefonte Friday and in the evening delivered an address in the Court House on "Christian Citizenship." There was a small attendance not over seventy-five people being present.

The meeting was called to order by C. C. Shuey who called on John I. Thompson, of Lemont, to preside. Rev. J. B. Stein, pastor of the Methodist church offered a brief prayer after which Mr. Thompson introduced Prof. Patton.

The audience was very much interested in the splendid address given by Prof. Patton and gave him the closest attention throughout. He spoke exactly one hour.

It was not a tirade of the old parties nor of the old party candidates, but a logical presentation of what he went on to demonstrate was the only vital issue before the people —the destruction of the liquor business. He referred to the similarity of the old party's thus proving that there was no issue between them. The Prohibition party's platform embodies the principal things mentioned in the other platforms, and adds the one on the destruction of the liquor traffic, a question of paramount significance. His address was also free from any abuse of those engaged in or in any way identified with the liquor business, but was an honest, earnest appeal to the better judgment of his audience in behalf of the cause to which he has given all of his time and the very best of his strength during the past twenty-five years.

An Evening Wedding.

A very pretty home wedding took place at 5 o'clock Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Bathgate, in South Philipsburg on which occasion their estimable daughter, Miss Agabel, became the bride of Charles Sherman, of Richmond, Va. About fifty guests were present to enjoy the festive occasion, which proved a very pleasant event. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. J. Head of the United Brethren church, of which the bride was an active member. The bride, who was robed in a beautiful white silk muslin gown and carried white roses, was attended by Miss Artie Stonebraker, who wore a pretty white organdie robe and carried pink carnations. The groom who wore the conventional black, had for his best man James Bathgate, a brother of the bride. Following the ceremony, a sumptuous repast was served. The bride received many very beautiful and useful presents.

The happy couple departed on the night train for Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, Md., where they will spend a week, after which they will go to Richmond, Va., where they will make their future home, with the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Appendix Six Inches Long Surgeons Gasp

What is declared to be the largest vermiform appendix ever taken from a human being was removed the other day from the body of Miss Mary Kilshore of Brooklyn at the Norwegian hospital. It was six inches in length, one inch in diameter at one end and three-fourths of an inch at the other. Miss Kilshore, who is 21 years old, was stricken and suffered intense pain.

Dr. Edward Day Ferris, her family physician diagnosing the trouble as appendicitis, advised her removal to the Norwegian hospital. Dr. Ferris was assisted by members of the hospital faculty in performing the operation. Difficulty in getting at the appendix was encountered because of its size, and when he realized the extraordinary proportions of the organ, Dr. Ferris was astonished.

Miss Kilshore rallied from the shock and is reported as doing well, with excellent hopes of recovery.

Grant Halderman Seriously Injured.

About 1 o'clock Friday quite a serious accident occurred on North Spring street near the Reformed church. They are building a new chapel in the rear of the church and Thomas Beaver's two horses with Grant Halderman as driver, has been hauling stone for the foundation Mr. Halderman was hitching up the team after the noon hour when the horses frightened at something and ran away. The unfortunate man's feet became entangled in the lines and he was dragged some distance and finally the heavy wagon ran over his back. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried into James H. Potter's residence where medical attendance was summoned. His condition is reported as very serious. He was later taken to his home on East High street.

The dissolution was authorized to take place September 17, 1906, and a letter of dismissal was granted him to the presbytery of Chester. Rev. H. W. Kochler was appointed to declare the pulpit of the Mount Union church vacant September 16, at the evening service. Rev. H. C. Clair was appointed moderator of the session and the church was granted permission to fill the pulpit until the fall meeting of the presbytery.

Flemington Man went Fishing; Not Seen Since.

Irvin H. Winkleman, familiary known as "Doc" Winkleman, of Flemington, has been missing since Wednesday morning and it is feared that he has been drowned in Bald creek.

Mr. Winkleman was employed at the paper mill and asked for a three days leave of absence on Tuesday evening. On Wednesday morning he stated that he was going fishing and took his dinner pail and two fishing rods and went up the creek. Later he was seen fishing near the dam and that is the last that has been seen of him.

When he did not return home Wednesday evening his wife and daughters became anxious and yesterday when it was reported that his fishing rods had been found floating in the creek, they became frantic.

A searching party was organized Friday and it has been searching all along the creek for him, but no trace of him has been found, excepting his fishing tackle. He had remarked to someone that he intended going to Clearfield, but he bought no ticket at Mill Hall and he is believed to have been drownded.

Some of his relatives from Centre county are among the searching party.

The hat worn by Winkleman was found in the race at the Foresman & Kelsey flouring mill at Flemington at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It evidently floated down the canal which goes to substantiate the theory that the man was drowned.—Lock Haven Express.

MARRIED—Chester H. Eves and Mamie J. Way, both of Stormstown were married this morning at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor Rev. James B. Stein.

MILLER—IRWIN.

Quiet Wedding of Popular Young People Proves Pleasant Surprise.

On Saturday evening at half past seven o'clock the home of Robert Irwin on North Spring street was the scene of a quiet but very pretty home wedding. The contracting parties were George A. Miller and Miss Kathryn M. Irwin. Only the immediate family and one or two neighbors, friends of the bride, were present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Allison Platts, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

After the ceremony and congratulations the bride and groom entered one of John P. Lyon's automobiles and were speeded away to Milesburg where they caught the night train for a wedding tour to eastern cities.

While the many friends of this popular young couple were aware of their matrimonial intentions, yet, the arrangements for the wedding were so quietly made that it came as a complete surprise even to some members of the family. Mr. Robert Irwin the father of the bride did not know that he was so soon to loose his youngest daughter, until he returned home Saturday night on the 6:30 train from State College.

The bride is a very pretty and attractive young lady with a host of friends who feel sure she will make a worthy helpmate through life to the man of her choice. The groom is in the mercantile business, a graduate of our high school, and a thoroughly industrious young man.

The REPUBLICAN takes thisopportunity to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Miller and wish them a safe and happy voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Membership Contest.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church wishes to secure all the young people of the church as members of this splendid organization

In order to accomplish such a worthy end they have instituted a membership contest with Miss Rachel Shuey and Mr. Samuel McClure as captain of the opposing forces.

The League colors, red and white will be used by the contestants and each Sunday evening at the young peoples meeting will be displayed the colors of the most successful side during the week. The contest will continue one month after which the winners will be tendered a banquet by their defeated friends.
